Claim Macmillan Did His Best

British Papers Cite Soviet Chief For Parley Failure

LONDON (AP) — British newspapers on both sides of the political fence united today in blaming Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev because Prime Minister Harold Macmillan had obtained no concessions from the Soviet in his Moscow visit.

Even newspapers of the Labor opposition conceded Macmillan had done his best.

Macmillan himself had promised only to return with information. He had warned he was going on a reconnaissance mission, "to try to break the ice and get some feeling of the general situation."

British spokesmen in Moscow admitted Thursday, after their chief flew to Kiev for the sight-seeing portion of his trip, that the "feeling" Macmillan got was that both the Soviets and the West so far were standing firm on the related issues of divided Germany and West Berlin.

Britons generally had hoped for more. As a result, Macmillan's trip was widely termed a failure.

The papers agreed that Khrushchev's speech Tuesday, pouring cold water on the Western proposals for a foreign ministers' conference on Germany, had wrecked the British-Soviet meeting.

"It was Khrushchev's rough, rude speech — breaking confidences, abusing all and sundry, and belying the fair words spoken to Mr. Macmillan's face — which ended hopes raised by his visit to the Soviet Union," commented the conservative Daily Mail.

The final insult came with Khrushchev's toothache — a "diplomatic toothache" many called it — which prevented him from accompanying Macmillan to the Ukrainian capital of Kiev.

"This looks very like a calculated rebuff to Mr. Macmillan," the Daily Mail said.

The headlines reflected Britain's letdown.

"Khrushchev wrecks talks" — The Laborite Daily Herald.

"Moscow mission negative" — Conservative Daily Telegraph.

"Unless there is a diplomatic miracle between now and Tuesday, the final communique will consist of empty words and platitudes," said the right-wing Daily Sketch.

At the city limits, it will tie in with a four - lane River - to-Lake

Funeral Is Pending Gas Stove Fumes Blamed In Girl's Death At Chester

The death of Constance Reymor, Barrymore, 18 - year - old former Wellsville and Chester area girl, whose body was found in a Chester tourist home Thursday morning, was due to carbon monoxide fumes from a gas stove in her room, Hancock County authorities have ruled.

A gas stove burning in the bedroom at the Allison Tourist Home, 641 Carolina Ave., emitted enough of the toxic fumes to cause the death, Dr. George Naymick, county coroner, said following an autopsy yesterday at the Weirton General Hospital.

A former ward of Columbiana County she had returned about two weeks ago to the home of her legal guardians, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKinnon, 1133 White St., Wellsville. The girl was registered at the tourist home Wednesday night.

A Chester man, who operators of the home say escorted her but did not stay, will not be questioned, according to Chester police, because of the accidental nature of the death.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinnon had provided a home for her for some time after the death of her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Barrymore of East Palestine, who adopted her at birth. They died when she was 11.

Last fall she had worked for about five weeks at the Fox Nursing Home at Chester, residing with an aunt, Mrs. Mary Duke of Chester R. D. 1.

She was a ward of the County

Welfare Department from January 1955 until Feb. 4, when she became 18.

Efforts to identify the body were complicated by the fact the girl had used at least three last names. Mrs. McKinnon said she frequently went by the name Reymor, which was her mother's maiden name, and sometimes spelled her last name Baremor instead of Barrymore.

The girl was born at Williamsport Feb. 4, 1941. She attended the first five grades of school at East Palestine and went to the MacDonald Building at Wellsville in Grades 5 through 8. She started her high school education at Westgate Junior High.

She leaves a foster grandmother, Mrs. Catherine McKinnon of Rogers.

The body was removed to the Martin Funeral Home. Arrangements are incomplete.

Dulles Starts 2nd Week Of Cancer Treatments

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today begins his second week of X-ray treatments for cancer.

His doctors said the treatments will continue for at least another two weeks. There is no word yet whether he will be able eventually to return to his desk at the State Department.

The doctors reported he was making satisfactory progress after the hernia operation he underwent two weeks ago today.

Meanwhile Dulles is keeping up with world events, particularly the Berlin crisis, through news reports and talks with State Department associates.

30 Firemen Injured In $250,000 Blaze

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Thirty firemen were injured Thursday as they battled an estimated $250,000 blaze in a four-story building in downtown Toledo. Nine of them required hospital treatment. The others were given first aid at the scene by rescue squads.

Flames were confined to the upper portion of the Bronson building, scheduled for demolition to make way for a new federal building.

Some 100 firemen worked three hours to bring the blaze under control.

Destroyed was the Usher Furniture Co., where the fire was believed to have started. Goodwill Industries and an empty store in the building were damaged.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

Marshall's Condition Reported Unchanged

He suffered a second stroke last week, and for a time there were other complications.

Col. G. M. Powell, Marshall's physician, said the complications have been cleared up.

To Communicate With Moscow U.S. Awaits Navy Report On Search Of Red Vessel

Sailors Act After Cable Was Ripped

Report Nothing To Indicate Russians Were Responsible

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department awaited a report from the Navy today before communicating with Moscow on the boarding and high seas search of a Soviet trawler by a U.S. Navy team.

In a surprise action, U.S. sailors briefly boarded the trawler in fishing waters off Newfoundland Thursday.

They reported nothing to indicate the Russians had anything to do intentionally with recent breaks in transatlantic cables. What might have happened by accident was an open question.

A spokesman said the State Department would communicate with the Soviet Union through diplomatic channels as soon as a full report is received.

After searching the trawler, the Navy team reported: "No indications of intentions other than fishing."

The quick negative report, issued by the Navy here a few hours after the boarding was announced, lessened the potential impact of the incident on already touchy U.S.-Soviet relations.

There was no immediate indication how Moscow might react. Nations jealous of their sovereignty often resent the boarding of their ships by men of another nation.

The Soviet vessel is the trawler Novorossisk, with a crew of 54 men and women. The Navy reported the captain was friendly and cooperative.

The United States acted under an international agreement which the Defense Department said "authorizes investigations by naval ships of official documents of other ships suspected of damaging and interfering with cables under the high seas." Both the United States and the U.S.S.R. are signers of the agreement.

Five transatlantic cables have been damaged since last Saturday in the area off Newfoundland. Fishing vessels of many nations operate in that area and accidental cable damage sometimes occurs in normal deep sea fishing operations.

But the Pentagon said that aerial reconnaissance by American planes "confirmed extended operations of Novorossisk in the area of the cable breaks at the time the breaks occurred."

Under orders from the commander in chief of the Atlantic Fleet, Adm. Jerauld Wright, five men from the antisubmarine radar picket ship Roy O. Hale climbed aboard the Novorossisk at noon Thursday.

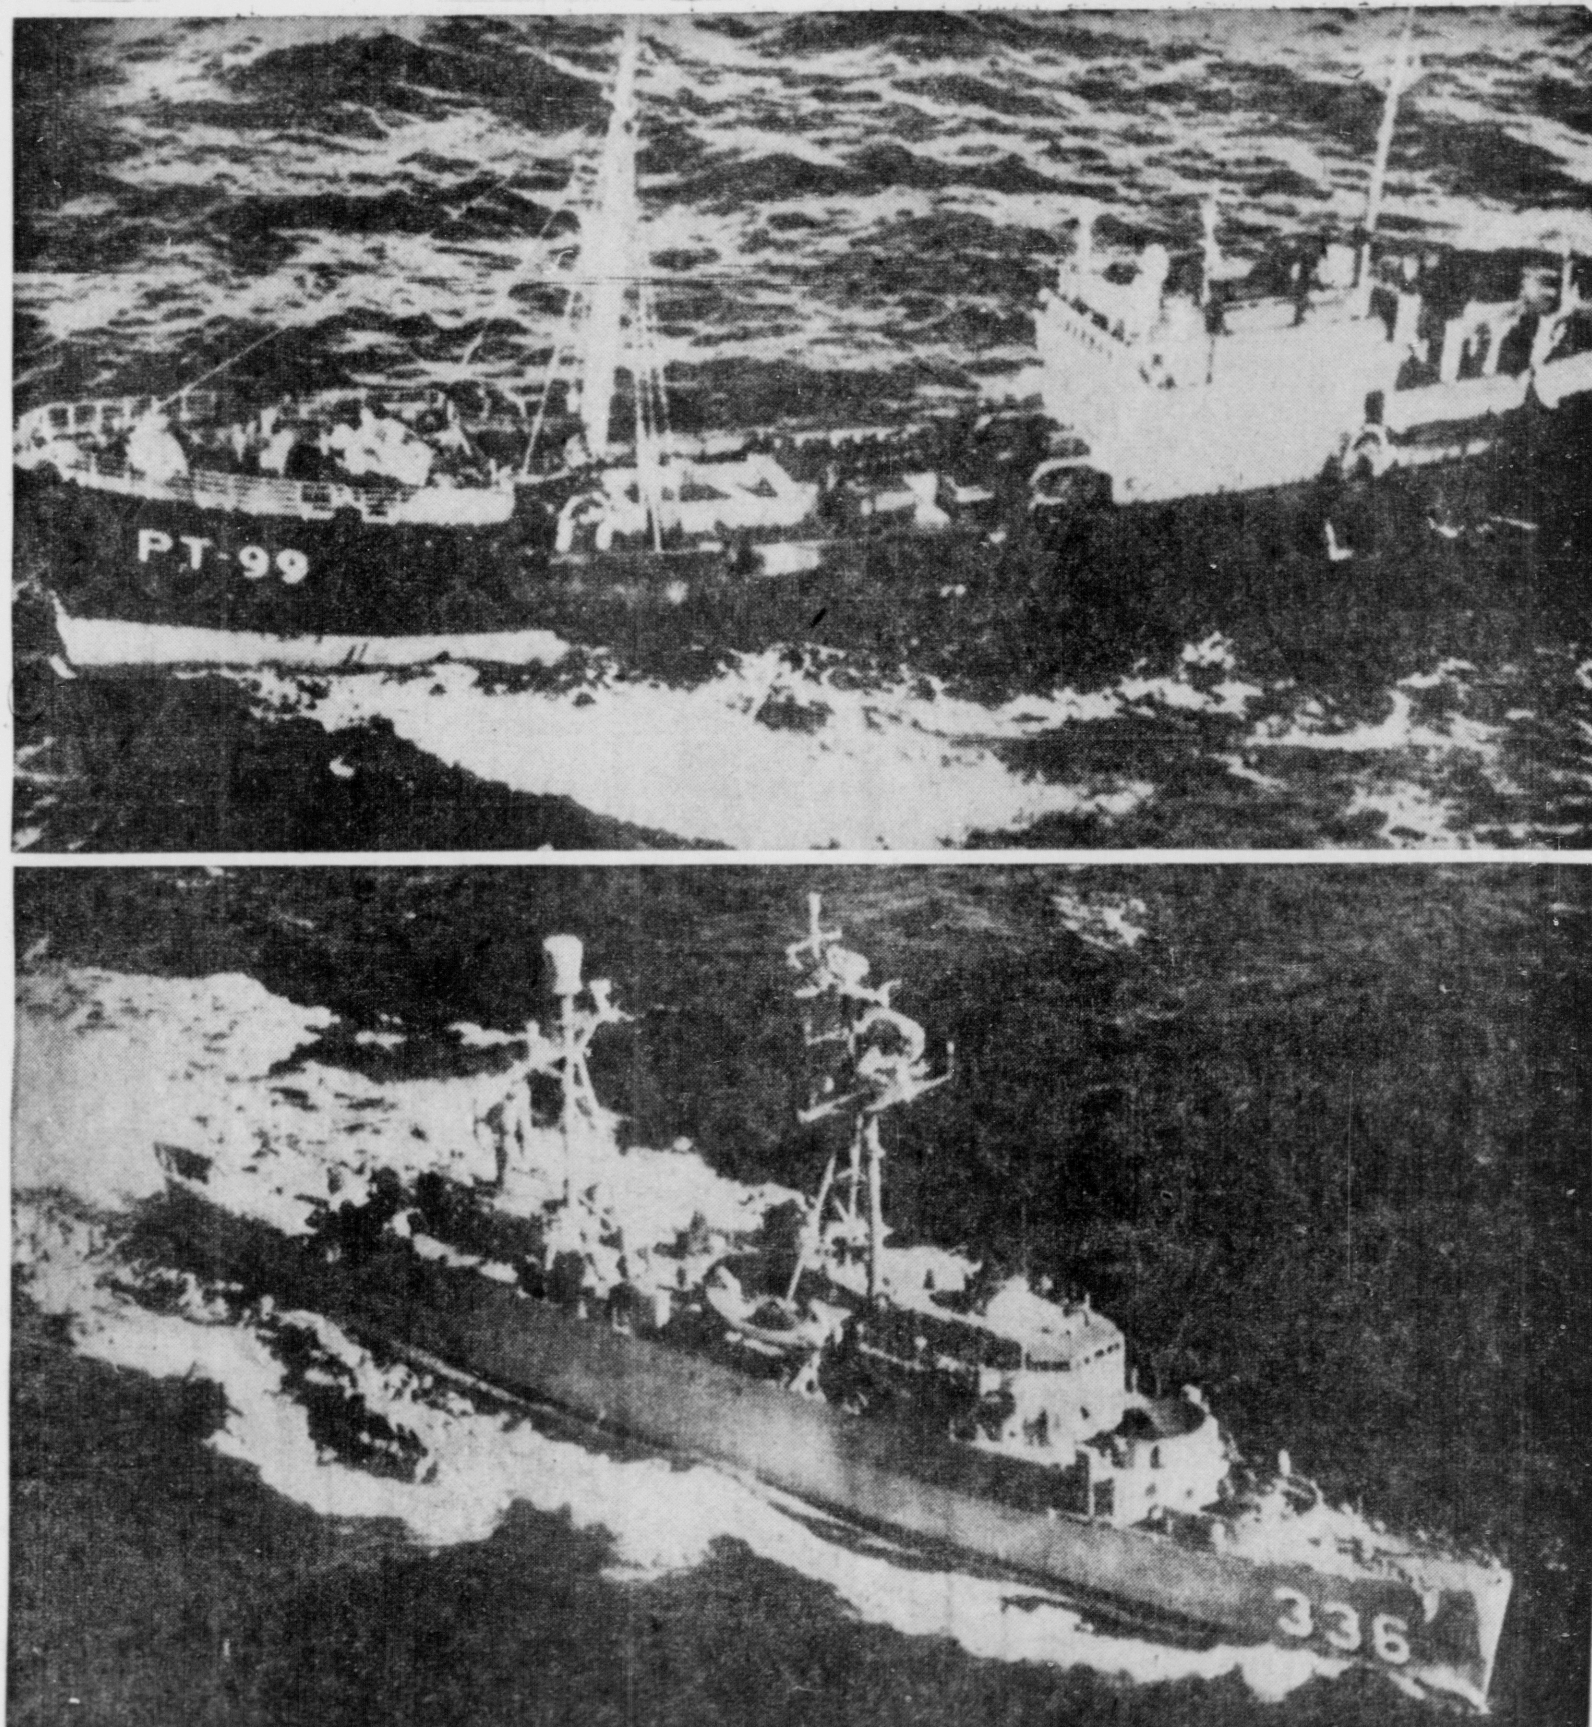

The trawler was about 120 miles off St. Johns, Newfoundland, in international waters. Wright ordered the boarding party to make the check under a provision of an 1888 treaty to protect cables. Although it was the czarist government of Russia which originally joined in the treaty, officials here said the Soviet government adhered to it in 1926.

In an initial report, Wright said that the skipper of the Hale, Lt. Cmdr. E. J. Korte, and his four men found that the Novorossisk was equipped for deep sea fishing and that all the ship's documents were in order.

Crucible Strike Ends; Arbitration Awaited

A strike in the cold strip department of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. ended Thursday afternoon, a spokesman said today. Over 200 returned to work.

The strike began Tuesday after the discharge of three employees for a speedup of a process covered by a bonus plan and arbitration is scheduled Monday between representatives of the company and Steelworkers Local 1212.

Economy Plan Set For Voting In 23 Districts

Precincts' Personnel Reduction Extended By Election Board

"Economy" forces of 4 judges and clerks, rather than the usual 6, will be used in 23 precincts at the May 5 primary elections, resulting in a savings of over $700 on payrolls, the County Election Board decided at a meeting Thursday night.

In addition to Lisbon and East Palestine, where voting machines will be used on trial, the reduced staffs will be used in three other areas where only operating levies will be voted upon, the board decided. Cutting the staffs from 6 to 4 means a saving of $32 a precinct — a total of $736.

The "economy" staffs will be used in 3 precincts of Center Township and 2 polling places in Elk-run Township, which will be voting only on operating levies proposed by the Lisbon Exempted Village School District, and in the 4 precincts of Leetonia, which will act on a 4 - mill operating levy.

Leetonia bypassed the primary under the Ohio "no contest" law. The two townships would not have primaries under any circumstances, as their officials are elected in November on non-partisan ballots.

The board decided earlier to use only four - member staffs in the 8 East Palestine precincts and 6 Lisbon polling places, where the voting machines will be tried both

Cut Berlin Talk, Senator Pleads

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) underlined the potential gravity of the Berlin crisis today by pleading for less talk on Capitol Hill while President Eisenhower weighs "the hour-to-hour developments."

Dirksen, the Senate's Republican leader and chief administration spokesman, cautioned in an interview against headline-making speeches or any hasty action that might affect critical negotiations.

Renewed tension over the Berlin situation exploded in the Senate Thursday with Democratic demands for a stepped-up defense program and for alerting the people to any eventuality — including the possibility of a shooting war.

Adding to the apprehension were the uncompromising tone of recent speeches by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and the apparent lack of any favorable results in Khrushchev's Moscow talks this week with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. The talks ended Thursday with British reports that neither side was giving an inch.

A further possible strain on U.S.-Soviet relations developed Thursday when a U.S. Navy boarding party made a personal check of a Soviet trawler about 120 miles northeast of St. Johns, Newfoundland. The boarding party was trying to learn what caused breaks in five transatlantic cables in that area.

But the threat of serious trouble was eased by the Navy's report that no indication had been found aboard the boat of any intentions other than fishing. The captain of the vessel, the Novorossisk, was reported friendly and cooperative.

May 27, about 90 days hence, is the end of a six-month period Khrushchev mentioned for talks Year.

Street Sweeper's Use Seen Herald Of Spring

A harbinger of spring on a par with the sighting of the "first robin," the city's mechanical street sweeper was scheduled to be put to use today to help clean away an accumulation of winter debris, particularly the ashes that were spread on icy pavements.

If the ashes and other debris are cleared away now, it means they will not be washed into storm sewer drops by spring rains, posing an even bigger cleanup job, Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross said.

Street department crews also were clearing debris from St. Clair Ave. gutters today.

Plans Satellite Stamp

BUDAPEST (AP) — Communist Hungary plans to put out a stamp showing the U. S. Vanguard satellite. It will be one of a series that will also portray the various Russian Sputniks and the Soviet rocket now in orbit around the sun. The series will commemorate the end of the International Geophysical Year.

60 Candidates Await Union's Vote Tuesday

Wheatley, 3 Others Ask Presidency Of IBOP In Primary

Sixty candidates will seek nomination to the 12 top offices in the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters when members of local unions throughout the United States and in parts of Canada go to the polls in the biennial primary election Tuesday.

The list of candidates was announced today by the IBOP after the deadline for declarations from members who had been placed in nomination by their local unions. Of the original field of 124, 64 decided not to run.

The top race is a four-man contest for the nomination for international president, in which E. L. Wheatley is seeking his second full term. Wheatley is opposed by James M. Duffy, the former president, who now is a member of Local 31 in East Palestine, and James B. Moss of Local 4 and Floyd Jividen of Local 130, both in East Liverpool.

For many years first vice president of the IBOP and in charge of its east coast office in Trenton, Wheatley moved up to the presidency in 1956 when Frank Hull of East Liverpool.

Bait For Rural Delegates

West Virginia House Vote Due On Gasoline Tax Bill

CHARLESTON (AP) — A gasoline tax increase bill waving a new amendment as vote bait for rural delegates came up for passage in the House today.

An amendment which the House wrote into the Senate - approved bill yesterday would earmark a bigger share of gasoline tax receipts for rural roads.

The amendment probably helped the bill's standing with farm area delegates. But it did nothing to make the measure less offensive to gasoline dealers in counties bordering on states with lower tax rates.

The gasoline tax currently is five cents in Ohio and Pennsylvania, six cents in Maryland and Virginia, and seven cents in Kentucky. Increases have been proposed, however, in Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Present law in West Virginia earmarks one - fifth of gasoline tax receipts — in effect, 1.2 cents on each gallon — for secondary roads. The amendment offered yesterday by Del. Richard Whetsell (R-Preston) and adopted by a 79-14 vote would set aside two cents of the proposed seven - cent tax for secondary roads.

Another earmarking provision written in by the Senate remained in the bill as it came up for House passage. One cent on each gallon would be set aside exclusively for matching federal funds available in the next fiscal year for construction of the Interstate Highway System.

It is estimated the gasoline tax increase would boost highway revenue by 4½ million dollars a year. The bill is the keystone of a Senate - approved trio of bills to raise $7,700,000 in additional road money.

One of the others also was up for House passage today. It would raise the cost of a driver's license, issued for four years, from $1 to $5. Both the gasoline tax and driver's license bills would have to go back to the Senate for action on House amendments, in the event of House passage.

The third highway revenue bill, a $2,400,000 increase in automobile and truck license fees, still was on amendment stage in the House, held over there from yesterday.

Held over at passage stage from yesterday in the Senate was a bill to enact a new 1 per cent tax on the price involved in transfers of real estate. There was a possibility of an attempt to amend the rate downward before the bill came to a vote.

Strike By Pressmen

Hits Columbus Papers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A pressmen's strike has halted publication of this city's three daily newspapers with a total daily circulation of 347,000.

Television and radio stations here immediately stepped up their news programming.

The strike by Columbus Web Pressmen's Union (Local) No. 15 knocked out publication of the morning Ohio State Journal. The afternoon Columbus Dispatch and Columbus Citizen were not expected to publish today.

It started last night when pressmen, failing to come to terms with publishers on a new contract, threw up picket lines outside the Dispatch-Journal building and the Citizen building.

The Journal, first to feel the strike, missed its Friday morning editions.

Children Of The Bible

ABISHAG

"So they sought for a fair damsel throughout all the coasts of Israel, and found Abishag, a Shunammite . . ."

—I Kings 1:3

A strange-sounding name to our ears—Abishag. But she was a young virgin of great beauty; in fact, an early version of our beauty contest winners. For she was selected from many girls of her age as the fairest damsel in the land.

King David's emissaries brought her back to the palace in hopes the sight of her would rekindle the old fires of love and passion that had once burned in the shepherd king.

Abishag spent her early childhood in the town of Shunem, not far from Mt. Tabor, the celebrated mountain of Galilee. No doubt it was the most memorable sight of her early years; for it stands in isolated grandeur in the middle of a large plain.

It is still regarded as a holy place, and was believed by some early writers to be the scene of Christ's Transfiguration.

In Abishag's day, the mountain and the plain around it were already a famous battleground; it was here that "Sisera, the captain of Jabin's army, with its chariots and its multitudes" had fought.

The Bible does not tell us exactly what effect Abishag had on David, although it says that she "cherished the king, and ministered to him."

But, although the old king did not take her as one of his wives in a literal sense, she was regarded as an official part of the royal household.

It was for this reason that, after David's death, when young Adonijah petitioned Saul for Abishag as his wife, he was charged with treason. According to the law, it was a serious matter for a subject to take something belonging to the Crown—even a beautiful young girl who deserved marriage and happiness.

Death was the penalty for Adonijah's request—probably because Bathsheba feared that Adonijah might still get the throne from her son, Solomon.

Abishag was an innocent, but legal, means of bringing about Adonijah's death.

'Right-To-Work' Issue Probe Seen Of Foes, Backers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Arizona) says any investigation of the so-called "right-to-work" issue in Ohio would include a look at campaigns by opponents and proponents alike.

He told a press conference here Thursday he has suggested to the Senate Rackets Committee that it investigate campaign tactics of labor unions on the Ohio right-to-work issue.

But he added: "We would have to go into both sides of it," explaining that management's role in the campaign also would come under scrutiny.

The right-to-work proposal was defeated in Ohio's November election. It was aimed at eliminating the union shop, under which an employee must join the labor union at his place of business as a requirement to hold a job.

The Arizona lawmaker said he has information from Ohioans that some signers of right-to-work petitions had been threatened. The petitions put the right-to-work issue on the ballot.

He said in his opinion the issue is not dead yet and that it may be "the dominant issue a few elections from now."

Goldwater continued: "I think if right-to-work is properly sold, it could be passed nationally."

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP)—A search for new living quarters for the 11 members of the Genna family today became a community-wide project.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Genna and their nine children lost all their belongings and their Plum Island home in a fire Thursday.

The Newburyport News, service organizations and individuals pitched in to help find the Gennas new living quarters within a week.

What appliances do not come with the new home will be acquired for the Gennas by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Ladies of Christopher will supply linen and kitchen utensils. The Kiwanis Club contributed $225 to buy clothing.

Rotary Club members said they would seek a suitable home.

The Salvation Army said it would serve as a receiving depot.

Genna, 35, and slightly over five feet tall, is widely known throughout Plum Island and Newburyport as a hard-working salesman. He has sold vacuum cleaners and worked as a salesman for a bakery and appliance store.

Bar Association Missed A Point

No American can help but be moved by the American Bar Assn.'s deep concern over security from Communist subversion.

But the association's House of Delegates, which showed its concern by adopting strongly worded recommendations during its recent convention in Chicago, did not go far enough in its concern for U.S. security.

It could have scored a point for freedom if it had come to grips with one cause for concern that looms as large for Americans as possible errors of interpretation by the U.S. Supreme Court in cases that involve the culpability of Communists.

It is the readiness with which Communist subversives and other unsavory characters whose inalienable personal rights get all mixed up with the people's right to protect themselves from imminent danger find lawyers to look after their interests in and out of court.

There are lawyers who specialize in advising and defending Communists, just as there are lawyers who have no visible means of support other than their practice among racketeers. This is the kind of counsel that sits at the elbow of the client who knows exactly when to plead the Fifth Amendment to confound a prosecutor or an investigator.

Yet, the lawyers who carry on this practice are, themselves, agents of the courts they tie in legal knots and sworn defenders of the same Constitution that other lawyers think is being distorted and tortured by courts whose rulings give comfort to the unworthy because the courts have been confronted with legal dilemmas that can be solved in no other way.

If the American Bar Assn. is going to put judges on the defensive, its position would be stronger if it acknowledged first that judges are the professional brothers of the kind of lawyers who count that day lost when they are not creating new dilemmas to make judges choose between upholding a principle and punishing a rascal.

Adequate For The Purpose In Mind

Walter Reuther is said to be disappointed because cooler heads vetoed his idea for a mass invasion of Washington by the unemployed.

But for the purpose in mind by the cooler heads, there is no need for a mass invasion of the nation's capital. Their purpose, which was pinned down by the AFL-CIO executive council meeting in San Juan, is solely to make certain that no congressmen overlooks unemployment as an acute problem that threatens to become chronic due to technological causes.

What they are trying to sell to legislative and public opinion is a full-employment policy to be incorporated in federal legislation. An orderly mass meeting and a parade will do very nicely for the cooler heads.

Most of them have not forgotten how perilously close this country was brought to grave trouble in the spring of 1932 by a staged demonstration in Washington — the so-called "bonus marchers."

The record of that unfortunate event is necessarily murky, but at the climax of the demonstration it was necessary to preserve order in the capital by armed force, and for years thereafter no Communist worth his hammer and sickle ever let his followers forget that Gen. MacArthur had turned back the "bonus marchers" as the military officer responsible for the security of Washington.

Perhaps the marchers got out of hand in 1932. Perhaps it was planned that they should get out of hand. Americans shuddered at the implications of the thing that could have happened and broke into a cold sweat at the thing that actually did happen.

Cool heads do not want to risk that sort of thing in Washington again.

It would serve no useful purpose for them. All they want to do is call attention to technological unemployment, which is a grave problem, not to create a graver problem by filling the nation's capital with a mob of unemployed citizens who almost certainly would would fall prey to agitators.

A Thought To Take To Heart

A retired British admiral, John Hughes Hallett, who told his fellow MPs in the House of Commons that he never was told where the atomic bombs were kept when he was second in command of a British-American striking force, has let a cat out of the bag.

The bag is the multi-billion-dollar security system that all admirals and generals insist on beefing up year in and year out — just in case. The cat is the tendency of admirals and generals to be just as reckless as the rest of us.

Right here in the United States, the whole security system for the Pacific theater of preparedness went pool one memorable morning when a cocksure officer wouldn't listen to an underling who had seen pipes on a radar screen for the protection of Pearl Harbor. On that same occasion, VIPs who supposedly would be on their toes were on horseback and various other places when the time came to deliver the goods.

Today, everything is done with pushbuttons, of course — and any fool can push a button. But which button? And what if the electricity has been turned off? And who gives the order if the man who is supposed to give the order isn't where he is supposed to be when it's time to give the order?

Among us totally unprepared dependents, quandaries like these are a way of life. If we need the flashlight, we can't remember where we left it. We don't know where the shutoff valve for the water is. We can't even remember if a dog bites us whether we inspect the dog's head or our own head for rabies.

But by all that's imprudent, we would know where the atomic bombs were kept if we had any — right in here somewhere back of the garden tools, the kids' bicycles, the lawnmower and the glider. If nobody told us where they were, we'd look until we found them.

To The Engineers

Recognition is in order during the current observance of national Engineering Week for those who mean so much to industry in the tri-state district — the metallurgists, ceramic engineers, chemists, communications specialists and others.

An area linked closely with potteries, steel mills, atomic power, chemical plants and transportation should not forget the role they play in our economy and development.

In accepting industrial processes, we too often tend to overlook the ingenuity, skill and hard work which lie behind them.

So hats off to the engineers whatever their field!

$200,000. It can now truthfully say to returning grads, "If I had known you were coming I would have baked a cake."

The FCC ruling that a station showing a mayor running for re-election, speaking for the March of Dimes or welcoming a city guest on TV, must give equal time to his opponents was silly. Imagine a Democratic candidate getting equal time on the air because he threw out the first baseball on TV.

Whatever evidence it finds of violence, destruction of property, perjury or other criminal offenses, this grand jury will pour back into the "warehouse" of information now run by Special U.S. Attorney Milton Wessel.

His unit is known as the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section (the "united prosecutive command"). It has analyzed, tracked, and turned over information to other enforcing units and grand juries. Then these forces will go after the hoods with whatever law is available.

Thus the Justice Dept. has been able to reach for the first time right into the hard coal fields, for example. There, one of the powers in the combine called the Mafia, or the Apalachin assemblage, or just the mob, has been able to dominate a United Mine Workers Local, No. 8005.

THIS ONE MAN powerhouse is known to the authorities as Nick Alaimo, committeeman of the Miners' local. His ties run through the mob network of garment shops reaching from the asphalt jungle to the "protected" dress factories of the Scranton - Pittston district of Pennsylvania.

On Feb. 18, the U.S. attorney for the area aided by an attorney - investigator for the "united prosecutive command" opened secret grand jury hearings in Scranton. They had subpoenaed Alaimo and some of his coal merchant friends.

This was not a fishing probe. The federalists went in with the specific objective of indicting Alaimo and others on charges of violating the Taft-Hartley law. The law has a section which forbids a union official to work closely

A Job For An Exterminator

Labor Rackets Face Legal Fight

By Victor Riesel

Cries out of a night-shrouded suburb have pierced through the thick oak doors of a federal grand jury sitting secretly in Manhattan.

The shouting came from the cracked lips of a swollen face of a home bound lieutenant of the Ladies Garment Workers Union chief, David Dubinsky.

The secret grand jury has been probing the garment jungle since last October — but with a new dramatic twist.

For five months it has heard scores of witnesses brought before it, not by federal criminal experts — but by lawyers of the Justice Department's Anti-Trust Division.

Indictments are expected within a month. If there are convictions, racket-busting history will be made.

The Anti-Trust Division will have been able to jail influential mobsters, posing as businessmen, not for a crime against a person or property, but for squeezing legitimate business out of the field.

If the grand jury indictments hold up, then the crime syndicates' businessmen will go to jail for depriving honest merchants of workers, raw materials, transportation facilities, mechanical equipment, customers — or all of these at once.

THERE WILL BE other indictments across the country in the western meat rendering industry, in the hotel and restaurant field, in the juke box "business" and in trucking.

The Anti-Trust Division lawyers, though not anti-crime hawks, also keep a sharp eye out for other violations as they uncover competition - stifling conspiracies by the hoods. So it was that the cries of Dubinsky's aide, Sol Green, in charge of a section in New Jersey, were heeded by the mysterious New York grand jury.

Whatever evidence it finds of violence, destruction of property, perjury or other criminal offenses, this grand jury will pour back into the "warehouse" of information now run by Special U.S. Attorney Milton Wessel.

His unit is known as the Organized Crime and Racketeering Section (the "united prosecutive command"). It has analyzed, tracked, and turned over information to other enforcing units and grand juries. Then these forces will go after the hoods with whatever law is available.

Thus the Justice Dept. has been able to reach for the first time right into the hard coal fields, for example. There, one of the powers in the combine called the Mafia, or the Apalachin assemblage, or just the mob, has been able to dominate a United Mine Workers Local, No. 8005.

THIS ONE MAN powerhouse is known to the authorities as Nick Alaimo, committeeman of the Miners' local. His ties run through the mob network of garment shops reaching from the asphalt jungle to the "protected" dress factories of the Scranton - Pittston district of Pennsylvania.

On Feb. 18, the U.S. attorney for the area aided by an attorney - investigator for the "united prosecutive command" opened secret grand jury hearings in Scranton. They had subpoenaed Alaimo and some of his coal merchant friends.

This was not a fishing probe. The federalists went in with the specific objective of indicting Alaimo and others on charges of violating the Taft-Hartley law. The law has a section which forbids a union official to work closely with an employer for private gain while ostensibly conducting union business with the corporation.

Evidence of Alaimo's power is the fact that he has held office in the United Mine Workers local, defying even the prestige of John L. Lewis' national office.

ALAIMO IS TYPICAL of the type of operator sought by Wessel's special Justice Dept. unit. Alaimo has set up independent garment and other industry unions. He is co-owner and manager of a Pittston garment factory. He was at Apalachin where the authorities believe he discussed his businesses and jurisdictions.

All his activities will be spot-checked by the special unit. After looking for possible violations of any and every conceivable U.S. law that can be broken by a union official doubling as a businessman, the special unit will turn to others who were at Apalachin.

This sifting process, this concentration of all data, is the federal government's new weapon.

School Notes

By Ralph McGill

ATLANTA, Ga. — This is from notes made at the United Nations in New York.

So, you are worried about your child's education!

You are, maybe, in one of the deep-South States where red-faced and red-necked politicians are determined to have their way, even if it abolishes public education. Privately they admit this is crazy and wrong. But they are the 20th century version of those who, with a do-it-yourself political kit, have made themselves a Frankenstein.

Or, you are parents in some other state where the problem is that the classrooms are too few and those which exist are overcrowded and the teachers too few.

There is, too, the shadow of Russian education and the query of whether our education is tough enough? Is it true that our education is too easy, that booze is too cheap, that sloppy work still brings high wages, that our values and priorities are shabby and, once we attain them, there is no satisfaction in the attainment?

Anyhow, you are an American parent and you are worried about your child's education.

WE WILL NOW switch to the 7-pound volume, 1,387-page report on world education by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO).

Maybe you think you are the only worried parents!

And maybe you think that all fathers and mothers don't dream dreams for their children and their future!

The survey is based on a careful appraisal of 197 school systems throughout the world.

Here are some facts, accurate and double-checked.

Of the 550 million children in the world between the ages of 5 and 14, an approximate 250 million are without any schooling whatever. That is one-half!

The lowest primary enrollment was, not unexpectedly, in the Asian and African countries. But there it also is rapidly increasing as the new fervor of nationalism demands education.

Girls are the most mistreated, although schools are being opened to them. The countries where girls are still largely excluded from learning are Nepal and Afghanistan.

The countries with relatively old, and advanced, systems of education are all-like the United States — suffering from too little financial support, shortages of teachers and too few classrooms.

Indeed, it is in the countries where education has proved itself, that the neglect of it is the most threatening. It is, for example, an incredible fact that in the last half of the 20th century, there should be some areas where the people are supinely agreeing that abolishment of the public school system is to be accepted.

IN THE COUNTRIES, newly come to independence, the thirst for a national system of education is great. It will not be denied.

The Russians, though they seek, and apparently are somewhat successful in making of education a tool to attain Marxist objectives, nonetheless are not starving their schools.

The United States worries about frills. Obviously, for example, driver training is necessary in our country. But it should not be a part of education. It is a vocational-type subject.

Greenland is undergoing the same sort of re-evaluation. In that country the girls are taught to sew skins and the boys to drive dog teams. Both are needed. But they are not really a part of what we mean by education.

But, what the industrially developed, comfortable countries should realize is that education brought them where they are comfortable. Their standard of living is high. It is so high that it is becoming very expensive. Taxes grow as we demand social security, unemployment insurance, pensions, fewer hours of work for leisure we don't know how to use and national security.

Childishly, we complain about taxes, refusing to believe that all services, as well as leisure, have a cost tag.

Meanwhile, the fathers and mothers of 250 million children who have no education at all are determined to have a country which will provide it.

Yet, there are those stubborn, willfully blind persons who think this has no meaning for us!

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — School officials announced that 135 students would be graduated from the high school in May.

Lt. Naomi Shingler, stationed at Red Bank, N. J., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Shingler of Lincoln Ave.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Dr. Arthur L. Watkins, city health commissioner, appealed for the cooperation of parents in a movement to halt the spread of measles and chicken pox among school children.

Thomas P. Kearns, superintendent of the Division of Safety and Hygiene, reported that 132 claims were filed by Columbiana County workers with the State Industrial Commission during January.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Freshman Class party drew a crowd of 325 at Memorial Auditorium.

The Board of Health asked City Council for $3,200 to enforce the recently enacted code regulating eating and drinking establishments.

James McFadden, son of Mrs. Rose McFadden of Thompson Ave., was included on the honor roll of the University of Portland in Oregon.

It was John Ruskin who said, "You cannot sympathize rightly with man unless you also sympathize with animals."

Proxmire On Bossism

By David Lawrence

Caucus Seen Key To Party Democracy

Senator Proxmire, (D - Wis.), should be hailed as a hero. He has courageously put his finger on the reason why congressional government has been deteriorating.

Instead, he is being treated by some of his colleagues in the Senate with a mixture of disdain and cynicism. Others secretly agree but do not concur openly with his defiance of the present system, which permits a role of bossism and dictatorship by an elected leader of the party.

What the Wisconsin senator has opened up to criticism at last, after many years of indifference by the public, is a situation in the Senate where "leadership" has been interpreted to mean one-man control over what legislation shall reach the floor.

While Mr. Proxmire calls for the resumption of the party "caucus" or conference, he does not say that an individual senator must forsake his conscience in voting the party line.

HE DOES SAY that there should be frequent party conferences in which senators may express themselves and endeavor to influence their colleagues.

"There has never been a time," said Sen. Proxmire in his speech to the Senate this week, "when power has been as sharply concentrated as it is today in the Senate. In January 1958 senators assembled and listened to the majority leader read a speech which he had previously released to the press in full. There was not a single matter of party business discussed. There wasn't even a mention of party program, not a whisper concerning any legislation. There was no provision on the agenda for such discussion."

"The next meeting of the Senate Democratic caucus was a full year later. It took place just last month. Again the meeting was convened by the majority leader, who delivered another speech on the state of the nation. This speech, too, had been released beforehand to the press. The only business of the entire caucus had taken less than two and a half minutes. And senators had to surrender for another year their right and duty to determine the Democratic party's policies and program."

SEN. PROXMIRE pointed out also that the majority leader exercises his greatest power in determining what legislation shall be considered. Mr. Proxmire said:

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: It is my opinion, if you ask me, that the automobile industry is about to give itself a new lease on the Henry Ford legend by being forced into a new line of production. So go ahead, ask me.

Those chin-scratchers who keep telling us that the automobile's importance as a prestige symbol is fading and that this is one of the causes for the popularity of foreign cars had better go back and re-consult their tea leaves.

I was there, Charley. I know. There were people who bought automobiles as prestige symbols, but they did not figure to be very important around this part of the country. We bought automobiles because they were logical.

It may come as a surprise to the brainbusters in Detroit, but that is the way we've been buying them every since. I am talking now about the ordinary run of folks in this part of the country, which I daresay is just as important in the over-all picture as any other part of the country.

Logic sold the first automobiles and has been selling them ever since. It made sense to get to town and back in about the same time it formerly had taken to catch old Nellie and get the crupper under her tail.

Those first cars — the ones Henry Ford made famous — ran the horse and buggy out of competition by doing the same job better. They were logical, so we bought them by the hundreds of thousands, and that is how the automobile era got its start.

The prestige-symbol part came along later, when the sports and wasters got into the act and insisted on being illogical about a proposition that had been built of logic. I will not deny that they had influence, but I deny stoutly that they were fairly representative of the great majority of auto owners and users.

We put performance ahead of everything else. And it was not until some of the things about cars began to make no sense at all that we rose up in our knuckle-headed wrath and began to mutter about a restoration of logic.

To the extent that Detroit has enough sense to come in out of the rain, it will go back to the good solid basis that made it thrive in the first place and insist on its products being logical.

What sense is there in having an engine powerful enough to pull a truck slurping up all that gasoline to pull one puny passenger back and forth to his way thither and yon on a highway so congested

"It is my objective to obtain for the individual senator the opportunity to have an effective voice in the making of extremely important, vital decisions that occur before legislation can reach the floor of the Senate for action, and to have a voice also in determining what legislation shall reach the floor for a vote."

The Wisconsin senator mentioned also that Majority Leader Johnson of Texas has been "more extravagantly and widely praised by his colleagues and the press throughout this country than any other leader who has graced this body."

Mr. Proxmire said that, in a later speech, he is going to "discuss the full implications of this leadership and the power it has generated" and that what he really is calling for is "a greater degree of democracy in our party in the Senate."

There was a time in American history when the "caucus" was of prime importance in determining party policy.

In the Reconstruction Period, the Republicans did all their arguing in secret caucus and, when a vote was taken, the minority were bound to support, by their votes in the Senate itself, the action recorded in the caucus. Some of the most vital portions of the debate on the 14th Amendment, for instance, were lost to history because of the secrecy of those caucus meetings.

MR. PROXMIRE is not arguing for a caucus of that kind. He is urging that senators meet together, discuss the party program together and then decide individually whether they will later support in the Senate the proposed legislation as conforming or not conforming to the party platform.

Much of the difficulty which has arisen in the last four years is due to divided government — the Democrats in control of both houses of Congress and the Republicans in charge of the executive branch.

If there were in the White House a president of the same party that controls Congress, the majority leader would have to bow to the wishes of the president.

Again and again the frustrations of present-day government are being pointed up. There is no fixed responsibility upon either political party today such as the peoples of the British Commonwealths enjoy in their parliamentary system. This has gone to such an extreme that a Democratic senator has found it necessary to take the risks of possible reprisals in committee assignments in the future as he lays bare what appears to be a dictatorial way of conducting the legislative affairs of the majority party today.

Cotton Corners

He cannot expect to drive much faster than he could propel himself on a bicycle?

That is what I mean when I talk about getting back to a basis of logic. About the most important prestige symbol a citizen can lay his hands on in an age of creeping insanity is some evidence that he still has all his buttons — and only the very rich and the very silly can justify the unbuttoned nonsense that has crept into automobiling.

I often wonder how much mileage I used to get on that first Ford runabout that took me everywhere and back. All I know is it must have been good, because the nearest gas pump was the other side of the covered bridge at the river crossing, and I didn't aim to get there often than once every couple weeks. Of course, I kept extra gas in a can in the wagon shed, just in case, but gasoline was not one of my worries, as it is now, when it would be cheaper to run my go-devil on cereal cereal.

Back to logic! And regards to the family.

The Swedish ship "Vasa," which sank in the Stockholm harbor in 1628, may be brought to the surface in the near future. The "Vasa" is regarded as the world's oldest fully identified ship. Already brought up are its bronze cannon, the rudder and wooden sculptures.

Voting

In May and at the November general election. Last night's action amounts to extension of the "economy" personnel plan into 9 more precincts.

Precincts normally are staffed by 3 Republicans and 3 Democrats. In places where a smaller staff is used, there will be 2 Democrats and 2 Republicans.

The board made arrangements with the printing concern to furnish ballot labels — listing candidates and offices — for use on the voting machines. The concern also will provide the so-called "authority to vote" cards which are used in voting machine precincts.

After a voter signs the poll list, he receives an "authority to vote" card. After voting, he surrenders the card under a system that prevents "repeaters" at the polls.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said the board expects delivery of demonstrator machines by April 1. To familiarize voters with their operation, the machines, will be placed in the Courthouse at Lisbon and the old City Hall building at East Palestine.

Schools of instruction are being planned for the judges and clerks who will man the polling places in East Palestine and Lisbon. O'Hanlon added.

Woman Indicted For Murder In 'Triangle Love'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Edythe Klumpp, 40, today was indicted on a charge of first-degree murder in the slaying of Mrs. Louise Bergen, 32, in a triangle love affair.

Mrs. Bergen's partly burned body was found on the shore of Lake Cowan in Clinton County Nov. 1, 1958. Mrs. Klumpp said the woman was shot in a struggle for a pistol following an argument Oct. 30.

Mrs. Klumpp, a part-time school teacher, told police she met Mrs. Bergen that day to ask her to get a divorce from her husband, Charles Bergen. She said she and Bergen, who had been living at the Klumpp home, wanted to get married.

The blonde woman was arrested after a police investigation disclosed that Bergen had been staying at her home. After lengthy questioning, she finally told police she shot Mrs. Bergen. Later she claimed she did so in an automobile as they fought for possession of the pistol. Then, she said, she pushed the body in the luggage compartment of her car, taught a sewing class that night, and the following day hauled it to the lake shore.

Jury Frees Wellsville Man In Assault Trial

Jack Shields, 23, of Wellsville R. D. 1, was acquitted Thursday by Common Pleas Court jury at Lisbon of a rape charge stemming from the alleged assault of a Lisbon woman Aug. 3.

The jury deliberated two hours in reaching the verdict. Judge Joel H. Sharp presided. The trial began Tuesday.

How Can I ? ? ?

Q. How can I remove oil stains from a rug?

A. A good method is to dampen a cloth with cleaning fluid and rub around the edge of the stain, working towards the middle. Change to a clean part of the rag as soon as one part is soiled.

Q. How can I easily separate the yolks from the whites of eggs?

A. Try separating them through a small funnel. The whites will pass through, leaving the yolks in the funnel.

Q. How can I clean brownstone steps?

A. By rubbing with a weak solution of muriatic acid applied with a stiff brush.

Two Children Suffer From Lack Of Food, Water

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two children suffering from severe malnutrition and dehydration were reported in poor condition today at St. Vincent Charity Hospital.

"We have been desperate for money, but the kids have been eating regularly," Mrs. William Schram, the children's mother, told County Child Welfare Division representatives.

Admitted to the hospital Thursday were Lynette Schram, 3, and 28-months-old Terry. Doctors examined and then released two other Schram children, Bruce, 5, and Kim, 9 months.

Mrs. Schram said her husband had been out of work for a month, but found a job two days ago.

She said she was unaware that Lynette and Terry were sick.

"They ate Wednesday night," she explained.

The condition of the children became known when a friend of the Schrams, who had agreed to take care of Terry, became concerned over the child's thin appearance.

Two U.S. Space Probes To Venus May Be In June

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two U.S. space probes may be rocketed aloft next June in an attempt to solve some of the mysteries of the planet Venus.

One probe, launched by an Atlas-Able rocket, would be designed to orbit Venus. The other, sent aloft by a Thor-Able launching vehicle, would be designed to go past Mars and possibly into a solar orbit.

There have been predictions, too, that the Soviet Union would attempt Venus probes in June.

The Rand Corp., which conducts scientific studies for the Air Force, recently calculated that next June 8 would be the most favorable date until early 1961 for a Venus probe launching.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration acknowledged that probes of Venus and Mars are among the space projects of the future. The launchings will take place at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Army Reports Jupiter Test Is Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — An Army Jupiter missile, with a range of 1,500 miles, hurtled aloft today on the start of a full-range test of the workhorse vehicle. The Army said the flight across the Atlantic was successful.

The 60-foot missile shot skyward at 12:49 a.m. after waiting out a 6½ hour downpour. It was the 14th launching of the Jupiter, a key rocket in the upcoming Army moon probe and two other major U.S. space ventures. The latest Jupiter carried nothing alive, military sources said.

A ship was stationed in the down-range impact area to record data on re-entry of the missile's three sections — nose cone, instrument compartment, and booster. Jupiter does triple duty as a war missile, moon rocket and a likely test vehicle for Project Mercury, the man-in-space program.

The fiery takeoff was a preview of the Pioneer moon launching which is expected this weekend.

It will be a second attempt to fire a 13-pound gold-plated satellite past the moon and into orbit around the sun. The Soviets said they achieved this with a larger satellite early in January.

Primary

East Liverpool relinquished the office because of failing sight and hearing.

In a special election that followed, Wheatley was named to Hull's unexpired term. He was elected to his present term in May 1957, defeating Duffy, who headed the union for about 25 years before he was succeeded by Hull.

The IBOP's general election will be held Tuesday, May 5, the same date as party primaries for political offices in Ohio. In the runoff, the ballot will list the two candidates for each office who receive the highest votes in the election Tuesday. The new officers probably will be installed at the 65th annual convention, which is scheduled to open July 6 in Montreal.

Incumbents also are seeking new terms in each of the other international offices. The candidates, with the incumbent listed first in each case, are:

Secretary-treasurer: Charles F. Jordan of Local 59 at Sebring, Charles B. Boso of Local 17, P. K. Calhoun of Local 9 and Lewis Silliman of Local 10, all East Liverpool, and William J. Hughes of Local 44 at Sebring.

First vice president: Walter E. Clawges of Local 175 at Trenton, Richard Gronostajski of Local 184, also at Trenton, and John B. Feltes of Local 218 at Torrance, Calif.

Second vice president: George Pace of Local 201 at Huntington Park, Calif., and Larry Finlay of Local 12, Roy M. Thompson of Local 124 and Carl F. Warning of Local 10, all of East Liverpool.

Third vice president: James T. Slaven of Local 124 at East Liverpool, E. C. Armstrong of Local 124, Guy Digman of Local 12, Charles H. Purton of Local 10 and Gus Sharkey of Local 86, all East Liverpool, and James (Ted) Coleman of Local 207 at Crooksville.

Fourth vice president: George Barbaee of Local 50 at Camden, N. J., and Walter L. Szelc of Local 174 at Metuchen, N. J.

Fifth vice president: Arthur Devlin of Local 184 at Trenton, and John J. Cooper of Local 45, Joseph Guadagno of Local 181 and Joseph Leadem, Edward Levensdursky and Robert A. Steffen of Local 49, all of Trenton.

Sixth vice president: C. Frank Dales of Local 4 in East Liverpool, John Andrasen, also of Local 4, and Sidney W. Young of Local 10, both of East Liverpool, Earl Crytzer of Local 164 at Akron, Joseph Harp Jr. of Local 59 at Sebring and John L. Sullivan of Local 104 at Falls Creek, Pa.

Seventh vice president: Leonard Greco of Local 33 in Beaver Falls, Frank Brown of Local 9 and Frank Duffy of Local 10, both in East Liverpool, Michael Conny of Local 44 and Gilbert W. Hoy of Local 59, both at Sebring, Charles M. Cobb of Local 108 at Bedford, Leona Walter of Local 42 at Salem and Kenneth Ward of Local 164 at Akron.

Eighth vice president: Clyde S. Jones of Local 44 at Sebring, Brooks Ash of Local 9, J. Albert Grafton of Local 10, Paul Hart of Local 9, Roy Masker of Local 4, Cyril Plant of Local 12 and Harry Vess of Local 21, all of East Liverpool, Milton Lowe of Local 108 at Bedford, Raymond Pinkerton of Local 44 and Raymond Votaw of Local 178, both at Sebring, and Robert D. Rideout of Local 104 at Falls Creek.

Ninth vice president: George Smith of Local 45 at Trenton and Harold Crowley of Local 174 at Metuchen.

Tenth vice president: William Rail of Local 89 at Richmond, Calif., John Engleby of Local 201 at Huntington Park, and Lewis Weigand of Local 222 in Los Angeles.

The unions also will vote on 16 candidates for two posts as delegate to the AFL-CIO convention. The only local candidates are Arthur Lightfoot of Local 12 and Mildred Ward of Local 195.

As the election returns are sent to the IBOP headquarters by mail, approximately two weeks generally elapses before the results are announced.

Communications Local To Vote On Pact Offer

CINCINNATI (AP)—Members of Local 4400 of the Communications Workers of America vote today on a new contract offered them by the Cincinnati and Suburban Bell Telephone Co.

Negotiators agreed on the contract Thursday for the 2,800 workers.

The proposed 15-month contract provides pay increases ranging from $1 to $5 a week. It also gives additional vacation benefits. It would become effective March 1. The local represents company employees in Hamilton, Butler and Clermont counties in Ohio and in seven counties in Kentucky.

Pleas Court Upholds Decision On Beer Ban

CINCINNATI (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, has upheld a decision which prohibits Anheuser-Busch Inc., of St. Louis from selling its "Busch Bavarian" beer in southern Ohio, northern Kentucky and southeastern Indiana.

The Appellate Court decision affirmed a judgment by U.S. District Judge John H. Druffel. Judge Druffel issued an injunction in 1958 in a case brought by the Bavarian Brewing Co., of Covington, Ky.

The Covington brewery claimed Anheuser-Busch was guilty of a trademark infringement in the use of the name "Bavarian."

Both sides appealed the judgment. The Bavarian brewery sought to have the injunction made nationwide but the Appeals Court ruled Druffel's original ruling should stand.

Ohio Bell Reports Earnings Decline For Third Year

CLEVELAND — The Ohio Bell Telephone Co.'s rate of earnings declined for the third successive year during 1958, the company said today in its annual report. The report showed that its capital investment last year increased faster than its net income. Although net income of $34,966,000 in 1958 was $1,941,000, or 6 per cent, above the 1957 figure, capital investment increased $44,931,000 or 9 per cent.

In spite of the slackening of business in the early part of 1958, Ohio Bell spent a record $78,960,000 for expanding and improving its statewide telephone system. During the year, the company:

Added 74,077 telephones, 46,928 of them residence extensions. Provided higher grades of service for 80,835 customers.

Provided local dial service to six more communities, raising the number of dial-operated Ohio Bell telephones to 98.7 per cent. Extended direct distance dialing to some 400,000 telephones in 13 communities, making it available to 1,600,000 Ohio Bell telephones by the end of the year.

Ohio Bell has launched a $76 million program for new construction in 1959.

The company will complete conversion of its remaining manual exchanges to dial service within the year.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child's Report Card Clue To Character

Your child's report card may be more effort and to work independently. An indication that he ranks low in concentration, attentiveness, ability to work independently or in other character traits. Or the teacher may have so reported in conference with you. You may be inclined to exhort the child to do better in these directions at school.

Some parents even punish the child at home if later reports are not better. All this usually does more harm than good.

A Connecticut mother writes of her son, six-and-a-half, that his report card indicated he was excellent or average in his subjects but unsatisfactory in habits of concentration and working independently.

She says: "We have read to him since he was about one, for many, many hours. We have taken him on hikes, picnics, to parks, zoos, boating, fishing, selected movies, shopping and libraries. His experiences are far-reaching. He has two sisters, aged two and two-months. We have always had big plans for him, that is to say as a doctor, pastor of a professional man of some kind."

"IN VIEW of all the time we have spent with him, I think we were both a little disappointed in the report. How can we win his cooperation to concentrate, to use

My reply in part:

Since your son has done well in scholastic achievement in spite of his poor concentration and lack of independence at school work, he should grow in book achievement as you find ways of cultivating better work habits in him at home.

You won't get far by talking to him and exhorting him at home to do better in these directions at school. You have done so many wonderful things in the family together that he may not have developed much self-reliance or the ability to work on his own in the midst of the normal school room distractions.

IT MIGHT be well to give him responsibility for some regular jobs at home in which he will be expected and required to be self-starter and self-supervisor, sticking to each job until it is done well. Also keep on stimulating him in wider interests and experiences. My bulletins, "Self-Reliance" and "Educating Your Child in Responsibility," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Heart Operation Is Performed On 3-Year-Old Horse

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A complicated, six-hour heart operation was performed Thursday on a patient with four legs.

The patient is a horse—a 3-year-old trotter named Wilky Way owned by Dick Wilcox of nearby Westerville.

A pediatric surgeon and a veterinarian joined hands to correct a blood vessel condition in Wilky Way's heart.

The vessel normally seals itself upon birth, but it didn't in Wilky Way's case.

The operation, at the Ohio State University Veterinary Clinic, is the first ever to be performed on a horse, according to the American Veterinary Medical Assn.

The surgeon, who declined use of his name, said the operation successfully closed the blood vessel. But he said it will be awhile before doctors can determine whether the animal will survive.

New Organization Plan Awaits Vote Of Merchants Unit

A proposal to adopt a new organization structure for the East Liverpool Merchants Association is scheduled for a vote at the monthly meeting Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. in the Chamber of Commerce office.

The reorganization plan was submitted to ELMA members at their February meeting. Meanwhile, a bulletin listing all the details was mailed to all the members to prepare them for the vote.

In the principal change, the reorganization would eliminate the present Board of Directors, which is comprised of members elected according to business classifications. It calls for appointment of a new executive committee, comprised of the ELMA officers, two members appointed by the Chamber Board of Trustees and two named by the merchants' chairman, subject to approval of the general membership.

The vice chairman of the merchants' association would be chairman of the executive committee.

In the new procedure for election of officers, a nominating committee would present the names of at least two men for each office at the April meeting each year. After additional nominations from the floor, ballots would be mailed all members, with instructions that they must be returned in time to be counted before the May meeting. The newly elected officers would assume their duties in June.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: I'm 16 and my husband is 19. We were married in November and expect a baby in April.

I love my husband and I don't want anything to happen to our marriage. Besides, with a baby on the way, I need him. We had a big argument about his not helping me with the wallpaper and painting in the apartment.

In my condition I shouldn't be on ladders and scaffolds but the place was so shabby I couldn't stand it any more, so I decided to fix it up. He promised to help but he hasn't kept his word. He went out with his pals four times this week.

I told him I was going back to my folks and he said, "Go ahead." I really didn't mean it but now

I can't get him to talk to me because I threatened to leave him. Please help me. I'd rather die than have my folks know the shape our marriage is in.—KATHY.

Dear Kathy: Same song, second verse. Neither of you kids was ready for marriage, but apparently this wasn't a decision reached after careful deliberation.

You ARE married, and about to become parents, which means you'd both better grow up in a hurry and measure up to the enormous responsibilities ahead. Go to the clergyman who joined you together. Discuss your problems with him. It's going to take plenty of patience and determination to make your marriage work. Since the boy-groom already is flying the coop four nights a week, YOU will have to be the grown-up one.

Good luck. You'll need plenty of it.

Weekend Romeo?

Dear Ann Landers: I am a high school senior, 18, and am very fond of a college sophomore age 20. He comes home almost every other weekend and I just live for these dates.

Since we've resided in this city only a year, my folks are not very well acquainted with this fellow so I invited him to dinner so they could get to know him better.

My two younger brothers, 10 and 12, are horrible monsters and I asked them in advance to please be gentlemen.

They came to the table with dirty fingernails, slurped the soup and mopped up the gravy. My folks said nothing and I was humiliated to death. My boy friend hasn't called this week. Could this be the reason?—ESTELLE.

Dear Estelle: If THIS is the reason, the boy friend is for the birds. The "monsters" were just showing off. Ignoring them was the proper thing to do. (Where's your sense of humor, Toots?)

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Father Cites Three Sons As 'Incorrigibles'

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Richard Paulsich, 41, a jeweler and the father of six, filed a complaint of "incorrigibles" against three of his sons in Juvenile Court Thursday.

He charged they ignored him, threatened him and threw stones at him. The boys are 13, 15 and 16.

"In the last couple of years," said Paulsich, "they've been getting worse and worse. I don't know why. They could be good boys. I want them to get straightened out before they get into serious trouble."

Paulsich accused his sons of having drinking and gambling parties in his home. He said they threatened him when he objected.

Chicago's Next Mayor Due $10,000 Pay Hike

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago's next mayor, to be elected in April, will be paid $35,000 a year, an increase of $10,000 now being paid Mayor Richard J. Daley.

The City Council voted the pay increase by a 43 to 0 vote Thursday but it cannot become effective until the mayoral inauguration in mid-April.

Daley, who led the Republican candidate, Timothy Sheehan, more than 6 to 1 in Tuesday's primary, is heavily favored to win a second four-year term. Daley's predecessor, Martin H. Kennelly, was paid $18,000 a year.

DiSalle To Ask Modest Tax Boosts In Budget

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he's thinking about staging a question-and-answer session in the Legislature when he presents the lawmakers with his budget next week.

The two-year operating budget, he said, will call for modest tax increases compared with those sought in other states.

The governor said he would sign a fair employment practices bill that provided for jury trials for violators who face imprisonment. The proposal is designed to prevent racial discrimination in employment.

It's illegal to ship home a fish caught in South Dakota.

Carnegie Library Acquires Timely Book On Khrushchev

Miss Frances Jones, librarian at the Carnegie Public Library, said that with Prime Minister Macmillan's conversations with the Russian leader dominating the world news scene, a new biography of the famous Mr. "K" gains added importance.

"Khrushchev of the Ukraine" has been written by Victor Alexandrov, who was raised in Russia and who has made a detailed portrait of the man into an absorbing book.

This volume was written originally in the French and has been a best seller in England for two years before being distributed here.

Our presses are turning out numerous books on the world of communism which offer an opportunity for the American people to think more fairly about the foe we face.

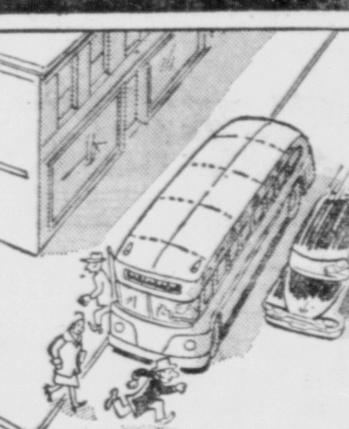

The distinguished Walter Lippman made a trip to Moscow last November and the several articles which he published in his column subsequently have been compiled in a small volume, "The Communist World and Ours." Lippman advises that we relax our fears in order to fortify and clarify our purposes.

One of the students who attended the Moscow Youth Festival, Sally Belfrage, stayed on for five months to get a first-hand, non-political report of the Russian people. Since the author is now just 22, "A Room in Moscow" is loaded with some rather brash but lively opinions. The man who has been said to raze the Tower of Babel, Mario Pei, has added "Getting Along in Russian" to his popular Holiday language series.

Two victims of communism have recorded their tragic experiences in autobiographies. Ede Pfeiffer tells of his education as a teen-ager in Hungary following World War II. The title of his book is "Child of Communism." Tragedy on a much grander scale was the fate of the only daughter of the Russian Tsar who survives today. "I Am Anastasia," will surprise the movie goers who saw the Hollywood version of this story, for it appears that she still is not recognized or accepted by her people and her relatives in exile.

Martin Hurliman, whose Studio series of pictorial studies of all the great cities of Europe, has produced "Moscow and Leningrad," which shows the stimu-

SAFE DRIVING TIP

Watch for pedestrians when passing buses stopped at the curb. Disembarking passengers, hurrying to make connections, often disregard street traffic.

The Chicago Motor Club reminds drivers that the blind spot in front of a bus or other vehicle is a favorite crossing point for careless pedestrians. They might step into the flow of traffic without thinking, so a motorist should be on the lookout for them.

lating combination of the elaborate architecture of the past, recently erected skyscrapers and candid shots of the people. "Stalingrad," the battle that changed the world, is a detailed account of events of this major turning point of the World War II by a former German officer, Heinz Schroter.

The new book shelf has novels on both France and China. "Letter of a Marque" is an adventure novel of a ship which traded with the Chinese during the period of the War of 1812. This is a first novel by an architect, Andrew Hepburn. "The Eavesdropper," by Lin Tai Yi, tells of the period when China vanished under Communism. The author is a woman who has been a teacher of Chinese at Yale. "The Bastard," by Brigitte Von Tessin, is an extraordinary novel of 17th Century France. The story, which concerns the intrigues around Louis XIV's court, has been a best seller in Germany for several years.

Senseless violence and atrocity are the themes of two studies—"Sold for Silver" by Janet Lim, a Chinese girl, and "The Question" by Henry Alleg. The latter concerns the struggle in Algiers and has been censored in France.

Several non-existent streets also were listed in the last edition. The directory says Banta runs from Spruce west to Pine, Kirk extends between Oak and Lake Ave, and Porters runs from Euclid to Halstead.

Prepared and published by R. L. Polk & Co. at Pittsburgh, the thick volume lists alphabetically all the streets in East Liverpool. But for good measure, it lists three more that never have been heard of here—Banta St., Kirk Blvd. and Porters St. Apparently the street names were part of the type prepared for another city directory that crept into the East Liverpool volume by mistake.

Several non-existent streets also were listed in the last edition. The directory says Banta runs from Spruce west to Pine, Kirk extends between Oak and Lake Ave, and Porters runs from Euclid to Halstead.

The camel has the greatest durability for long-distance running. It is capable of doing about 25 miles an hour for great distances.

Meetings Set For Farmers

Beaver ASC To Hold Signup For Program

G. M. Swick, chairman of the Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced that a series of community meetings will be held throughout the county to give farmers an opportunity to enroll in the agricultural conservation program and request needed soil and water conservation practices for the 1959 program year.

The federal government will share the cost of carrying out approved soil and water conservation practices in accordance with provisions and specifications approved for the county.

Participation is entirely voluntary. Soil tests are required for each field to be limed. Farmers may bring their soil samples to the enrollment meeting in their community or to the county agent's office in the basement of the Courthouse at Beaver.

Farmers not attending may enroll and file their request at the county ASC Office.

Hearing Postponed

LISBON — Hearing for William Frankford, 235 Sherman St., was reset for Thursday after the trucker's counsel was unable to appear with him last night before Mayor John Todd. He is accused of violating an ordinance banning trucks from all streets except state routes. Cited last Friday, he pleaded innocent earlier.

Independent Gas Stations In Drive For 'Blue Law'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus independent service station operators laid plans today for an all-out campaign to close all service stations which violate Ohio's Sunday blue law.

Joining together under the banner of the Independent Service Station Dealers Assn., 113 operators met to discuss Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner's crackdown against Sunday sales.

The majority voted in favor of abiding by a state law which requires businesses to close one day a week in observance of the Sabbath. The law, however, does not apply to those engaged in work of charity or necessity.

As a result of the vote, members of the group volunteered to serve on committees which will visit all Columbus service stations remaining open next Sunday.

Vernon J. Kertzing, executive secretary, said affidavits against the offending stations will be filed in Municipal Court Monday.

Midland Makes Good Impression . . .

Coach George Hamilton's Midland Leopards have rival coaches and sportswriters agog after two performances in the spacious Pitt Fieldhouse.

They call Midland "strong," "could be the surprise team of the tournament," and refer to Movie Smith as a fellow "they're going to hear a lot about in the next few years."

A sportswriter for the Charlevoix paper commented that he watched Midland play in the Christmas tournament at Farrell in December and called the Leopards "a vastly improved team."

All of which means Midland has looked the part of a champion in both games at Pittsburgh.

Last Saturday against German Township the Leopards posted a

49 per cent shooting average, the top mark in the tourney so far. Wednesday, they had another good night, hitting 40 per cent as they ran Homestead off the floor in the fourth quarter.

The last time Coach Hamilton took Midland to the semi-finals was in 1955 when the Leopards showed such stars as Herb Lake, Mel Evans, Harriell Horace, Ollie Cvetovich and Henry Suffoletta.

Farrell played the part of villain that time.

Midland will move into the big leagues Tuesday night. The Leopards' opponent probably will be Charlevoix, one of the strongest teams in the WPIAL.

However, if the Leopards continue their alert play and good shooting, they stand a very good chance to stay in the running.

Tough Luck Guy . . .

TOUGH LUCK GUY. This title will have to go to Bill Laughlin, the former East Liverpool cager and coach.

Laughlin's story of WPIAL tournament is one of often a bridesmaid but never a bride.

It seems Bill and his Washington High team can't get out of Pittsburgh. Washington probably has visited the WPIAL tournament more times than any other team, but always runs headon into Farrell or the likes, and is bounced out of the running.

It looks like Laughlin could be headed for the same fate again when Washington meets Farrell in the semi-finals next week.

THE WPIAL tournament has all

BOBBY DAWSON, former Potter basketball star, has returned to Bowling Green University and is doing quite well for himself.

Bob suffered a back injury during the 1956-57 season and was forced to give up basketball for awhile.

However, he still has his freshman year of eligibility left and is performing for the Falcon frosh.

Bob had his best night of the season last Saturday when he pumped in 19 points against Ohio University.

In another game last week his two foul shots put Bowling Green ahead and finally led to a Falcon victory.

Another Potter athlete, Jim Potts, the All-Ohio quarterback in 1955, will be battling for the signal calling position when the pigskin season rolls around this year.

He played regular on the BG freshman squad last season. Bob Gibson, coach of the 1955 Potters, is still backfield coach at Bowling Green.

DAVE PUGH, Chester's outstanding pivot man last season, has seen limited action in 15 games this year with the Marshall freshmen, which have an 11-5 record.

MARSHALL'S Leo Byrd, No. 2 scorer in the nation behind Oscar Robertson, has a story of his own to tell.

Byrd at the age of 12 had polio and couldn't walk. He played basketball for rehabilitation purposes and now is averaging 30.15 points per game.

Missouri Signs Devine To 8-Year Grid Pact

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Dan Devine, who came to the University of Missouri as head football coach a year ago, signed an eight-year contract today.

President Elmer Ellis said the new agreement, effective Sunday, is binding on both parties. It specifies that Devine agrees to stay at M. U. for eight years without seeking employment elsewhere. His salary was not announced.

This was the second move to make sure the popular coach, whose first Tiger team had a 4-1-1 record, doesn't leave Missouri. A group of alumni has announced that it is paying the premiums on a $150,000 life insurance policy for Devine.

Missouri was second in the Big Eight Conference last season, losing only to champion Oklahoma in the league.

Portland, Idaho State, DePaul Named To NIT

NEW YORK (AP) — DePaul of Chicago, Idaho State and Portland (Ore.) today were named at-large entries in the NCAA Basketball Tournament, bringing to 10 the number of teams in the field for the collegiate championships.

The selections, made by R. S. (Spec) Keene of Oregon State — the chairman of the NCAA's Western Selection Committee, were announced by the NCAA Service Bureau here.

Idaho State, the leader in the Rocky Mountain Conference, will be making a record seventh successive appearance in the tournament. Only four-time champion Kentucky has made more overall appearances, 10.

It's the fourth time in the NCAA for DePaul and the first for Portland.

Wellsville, Big Red Clash Tonight For Title

Tigers Gain 67-57 Victory Over Toronto

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Wellsville High's Tigers will go into action tonight against top-seeded Steubenville Big Red in the finals of the Sectional Class AA tournament after ousting defending champion Toronto, 67-57, Thursday night.

Wellsville-Big Red Tickets On Sale Today

Tickets for tonight's Sectional AA championship game at Toronto will be on sale all day today in McMorrows and Culp's drug stores in Wellsville, Don Lowe, faculty manager, announced. Fans may purchase tickets for $1 until about 6 p.m.

Coach Jack McDevitt's Tigers—outscored in field goals 21 to 20—turned the trick at the foul line to remain in the running for a chance to move on to New Concord for district play next week.

HOWEVER, Big Red looms a decided favorite in tonight's showdown and the Tigers must muster all their potential if they hope for an upset victory. Tipoff time is 8 p. m. in the Toronto gym.

Wellsville will be seeking its 15th triumph of the campaign and third in tournament play. The Tigers sidelined Steubenville Catholic Central in its opener and Toronto last night to advance to the finals.

Ang Vaccaro's Big Red, 16-4 for the year, has looked very strong in eliminating Wintersville and East Liverpool. Wellsville must figure some way to halt Captain Sandy Williams, clever pivot star, and forward Phil Musgrave if it is to win.

Williams, averaging more than 20 points a game, and Musgrave, a 6-2 junior, will team with George Miloshevich, 6-3, Nick Dudukovich, 5-10, and Dave Hutter, also 5-10, in the Stubber lineup tonight.

McDEVITT will counter with All-Ohio candidate Dan Baldwin and sophomore sensation Bob Kiggins, at forwards, Franklin Jackson, 6-2, at center, and sophomore Phil Baldwin and junior Ray Franklin at guards.

In Steubenville's smashing conquest of East Liverpool, Williams was sensational with his wide variety of shots from around the foul circle, hitting for 36 points. Musgrave collected 33.

Wellsville held a narrow lead nearly all the way in whipping Toronto last night, but at times it appeared as if the pressure was beginning to show and the Tigers failed to display the class of earlier games.

Bad passes and a rash of costly mistakes took some of the luster off the victory, but the Tigers kept a steady parade going at the foul stripe where they made 27 of 39 to overcome Toronto's edge in field goals.

Personal fouls proved to be more costly to Coach Paul Kalivoda's Knights than to Wellsville. The losers lost their leading scorer after three quarters and their tail center soon after the outset of the final period.

JOHN BUCHEY, a holdover from last year's championship squad, was benched after a few seconds of the fourth quarter on fouls and John Karavas left with four minutes remaining in the game.

Wellsville was clinging to a 54-47 lead when Karavas departed, then pulled away to a more comfortable advantage, 60-48.

Wellsville's Franklin Jackson, who pulled off most of the rebounds and added 11 points to the scoring column, also was benched on personals with only a few minutes gone in the fourth quarter. Baldwin and Kiggins again teamed up to spark Wellsville's attack, each scoring 19 points. Kiggins also turned in another flashy floor game and had a number of assists with clever passwork.

The lanky sophomore connected for seven goals, mostly on arching push shots from the side, while Baldwin netted six goals, scoring well on drive-ins off a screening pattern.

Baldwin saw his average slip for the second straight game, dropping from 24.1 to 23.8 with a total of 477 points. Kiggins looped double figures for the 10th straight game and will enter tonight's game with 253 for the season.

KARAVAS led Toronto in scoring with 19 points, while center George Fisher tallied 16 and Bucey got 10 in three quarters of play. Jackson and Kiggins started Wellsville in rapid style as the Tigers moved to a 5-0 lead. Jackson drew first blood with a layup after taking a smooth pass from Baldwin and Kiggins followed with a tip shot and a foul.

Ralph Paisley broke the ice for Toronto with a layup shot for a 2-score. A flurry by both sides made it 8-8. A drive shot by Baldwin at the quarter's end gave the Tigers a 10-8 margin and they stayed ahead the rest of the way.

Toronto's most impressive outburst was early in the fourth period when Karavas sparked a rally which carried the Knights to within striking distance. With the score 51-38 in favor of Wellsville, Toronto scored 10 straight points. Both coaches substituted freely in the final few minutes.

Reds' Lynch Sets Goal On .320 Average

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Jerry Lynch of the Cincinnati Redlegs is a young man with an ambition—he wants to hit .320 during the coming season and belt 25 home runs.

Lynch, who has been in and out of the lineup ever since he broke into major league baseball with Pittsburgh in 1954, finally got a full time job with the Reds midway in the 1958 season and he finished with a .312 batting average.

"I figure I should be able to hit .320," he said Thursday as the almost complete complement of Reds started drills. "And I'm confident that if I play in 125 games or more that I'll hit 25 homers."

Lynch has been used as an outfielder, a catcher and a first baseman. His regular play last season was as an outfielder and the rap against him there was his defensive play.

As of now, Manager Mayo Smith plans to use Lynch as his regular right fielder, although Lynch has figured in recent trade rumors.

With the start of practice Thursday, all except three Reds now are on hand—outfielder Del Ennis and pitchers Orlando Pena and Jay Hook.

Ennis arrives Saturday and Pena and Hook have been given permission to report late.

St. Stephen's, First U.P. To Vie For Title

St. Stephen's Episcopal and the First United Presbyterian quint will meet Saturday night to decide the championship in the 1959 Y-Church League.

The Presbyterians won the Inter-Collegiate Division while St. Stephen's were champs of the Collegiate Division. Both teams finished the season undefeated, winning seven games each.

Identical trophies will be awarded each team.

The championship game is scheduled to get underway at 7:20 following the first half of the Boyce Methodist and Chester Methodist contest at 7 p. m. Boyce Methodist and Chester Methodist were runners-up this season.

FIGHT RESULTS

Portland, Ore. — Bobby Hicks, 134, Seattle, outpointed Teddy (Redtop) Davis, 136, Hartford, Conn., 10.

New York (Sunnyside Garden) — Jose Torres, 163, Puerto Rico, stopped Eddie Wright, 161½, Philadelphia, 5.

First Landing Choice In Flamingo Stakes

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — First Landing is a 4-5 favorite in the 11 horse field which may start in Saturday's $100,000 added Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah Park.

A victory for the C. T. Chenery entry would bring his earnings to over a half million dollars. He would be the first thoroughbred in history to win so much by the age of 3.

Others entered are Troilus, Rare Rice, Open View, Easy Spur, Scotland, Rico Tesio, Moony, Manassa Maulier and Quiz Star. All entrants will carry 122 pounds.

Oscar Pours In 36, Nears Scoring Title

By The Associated Press
Big Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati moved closer to his second straight college basketball scoring title Thursday night. The Bearcats' star pumped in 36 points against Duquesne to boost his season's average to 33.4.

Leo Byrd of Marshall, the runner-up, also had a good night. He tallied 34 points against Morehead (Ky.) and raised his average to 30.3, according to NCAA Service Bureau figures.

United Advances To Sectional Finals; East Palestine Loses In 'Sudden Death'

Summer Sets Pace With 16

CANTON — United's first victory in the Class "A" sectional here at Memorial Fieldhouse came at the foul line when the Golden Eagles eliminated Leetonia, 48-42, Thursday night.

The victory put United in the finals Saturday night against Ravenna, which defeated Boston Township, 54-48, last night.

Saturday's game is set for 8:30 and Ravenna will put a 13-7 record on the line against United's impressive 18-3 mark.

Columbiana meets Beach City tonight at 7 at the fieldhouse, and if the Clippers win they will play the winner of the Atwater-Windham game set for tonight at 8:30.

Two winners advance from Sectional play into the District action also set for the fieldhouse.

In last night's contest, both teams scored 18 times from the field but United converted 12 of 22 foul shots, six more than Leetonia, for the victory.

The game was tight for the first half with United on top at intermission, 22-18.

Coach Bob Penrod's Golden Eagles managed to increase the margin to eight points, 34-26, when the third quarter ended.

Jim Summer, United's mainstay all season, scored 16 points to lead his team. Frank Shagnot hit the double figures with 10 markers.

Lee Radler's 15 points topped Leetonia which finished the season with an overall record of 3-16.

Gordon Says He's Satisfied With Indians

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Manager Joe Gordon says he is pretty well satisfied with the Cleveland baseball club "just the way it stands."

That was his answer when General Manager Frank Lane informed him there were indications the Indians would not be able to make a trade of importance before the season opens April 10.

Lane, touring the training camps in Florida, has found that the price of a new third baseman—particularly Hector Lopez of the Kansas City Athletics—is exorbitantly high. Lane arrives here Monday.

There were only four absences Thursday at the Indians' first full-scale workout. Forty-two players were in uniform.

Absent were Minnie Mino, Vic Power, Billy Moran and Rod Graber. Moran was delayed by car trouble in New Mexico and Graber was given permission to report late. No word was heard from Mino and Power.

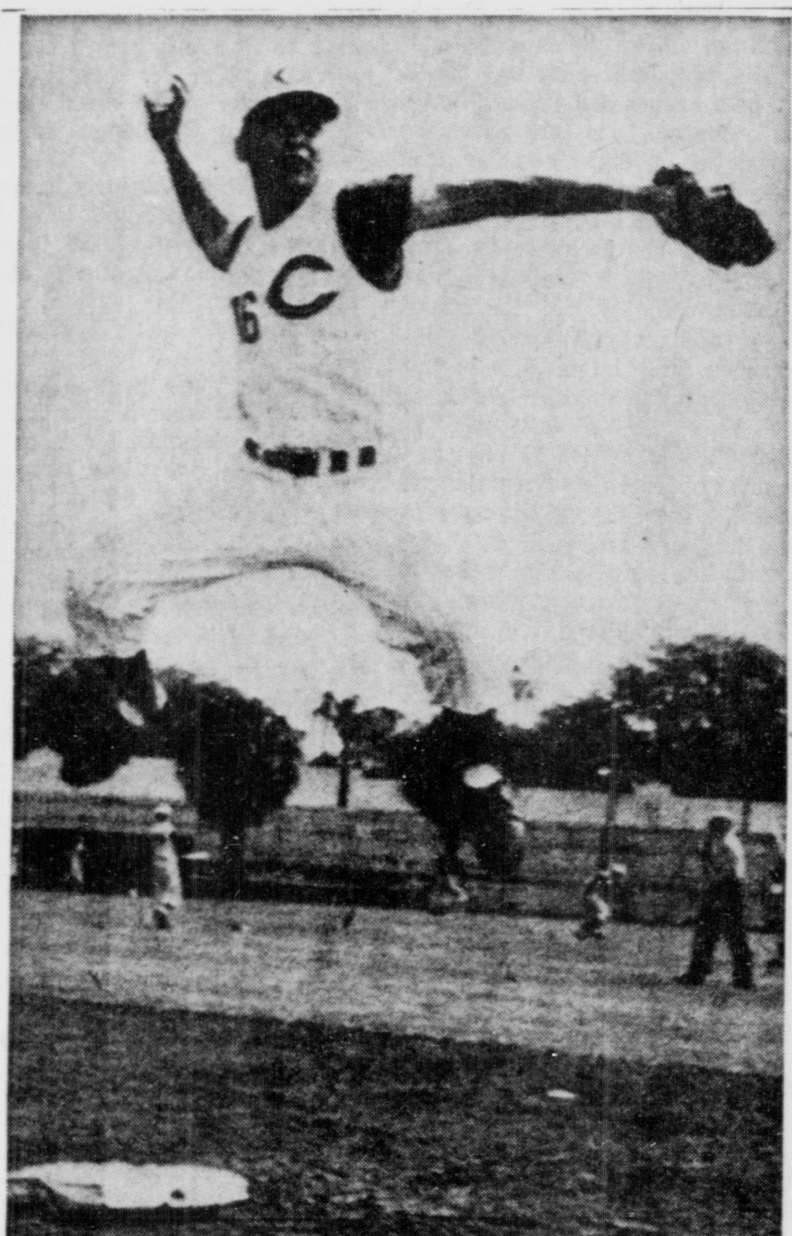

"I'm not concerned about Mino and Power," Gordon said. "I don't care when they get here because they've been playing ball all winter. The rest might do 'em good."

Carol Heiss Wins 4th World Skating Title

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — The queen of figure skating, incomparable Carol Heiss of the United States, looked ahead today to the 1960 Olympics after sailing off with her fourth straight world title Thursday night.

None among the 15 challengers from seven other nations seriously threatened the reign of the 19-year-old New York University coed.

Austria's Hanna Walter placed second. Following in order were Sjoukje Dijkstra of The Netherlands, Ina Bauer of West Germany and Barbara Ann Roles of Paramount, Calif.

LEAPING HIGH to complete double play throw is second baseman Johnny Temple of the Cincinnati Reds as the team officially opened spring training Thursday at Tampa, Fla. (UPI Telephoto)

Newell, Cumberland Enter Tourney Tonight

Another tournament gets underway tonight in the district when Newell and New Cumberland see action in the Section I classic at New Cumberland.

In the first game at 7, New Cumberland will meet Bethany and Newell will take the floor at 8:30 against West Liberty.

Bethany is favored over New Cumberland after defeating the Blue Raiders twice in the regular season.

In the first meeting between the two schools, Bethany came out on top with an 81-75 win then handed the Raiders a 78-59 defeat about two weeks ago.

West Liberty also rates the edge over a Newell club which takes an unimpressive mark of 0-19 into tonight's game.

The last regularly scheduled game of the season shows Chester traveling to Follansbee tonight. The Panthers are in quest of their 14th victory as against six defeats.

Chester finished fifth among district teams as far as won-lost records are concerned.

The big game tonight of course finds Wellsville going against Big Red at Toronto.

Over at the Canton Class "A" tournament Columbiana meets Beach City at 7 p. m. if the Clippers can win tonight they meet the winner of the Atwater-Windham game Saturday at 7 at the Canton Memorial Fieldhouse.

United, a 49-42 winner over Leetonia last night, will meet Ravenna Saturday at 8:30. Two winners advance from Sectional play into the District also slated for Canton.

The Midland Leopards are idle until next Tuesday when they resume their bid for a WPIAL title against the winner of the Uniontown - Charlevoix game tonight.

Mantle Plans Salary Talk

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankee's No. 1 power man, arrived here Thursday night and said he planned to call General Manager George Weiss for a salary conference today.

The 26-year-old centerfielder said he did not say whether he would sign his contract, but indicated that he and the Yankees were not far apart.

Mantle, who earned $72,000 last year, reportedly is holding out for a $3,000 raise.

Weiss, after sending Mickey a contract calling for $65,000, has agreed to boost the figure but apparently wants Mantle to agree to certain conditions before yielding to the slugger's demands for $75,000.

Mickey wants no part of any conditional contract.

"I am just not going to talk about it," Weiss replied when asked to specify what the conditions were. "In the past the misunderstanding has been misunderstood."

Weiss was referring to the Ford case in which it was reported that Whitey balked at signing a conditional contract agreeing to observe curfew regulations and other training rules.

"There absolutely was no behavior clause attached to Ford's contract," Weiss said. "We merely wanted him to adhere to a prescribed diet which he failed to do last year."

Ed Lubanski Due Bowling Citation After ABC Stint

ST. LOUIS (AP) — After Ed Lubanski's performance in the American Bowling Congress Tournament Wednesday and Thursday, he seems destined to win the coveted "bowler of the year" award of the Bowling Writers Assn.

Ed, of Detroit, and his Pfeiffer Beer team broke two ABC records. Lubanski's 2116 all-events-to-total wiped out the 2088 record set two years ago by Jim Spalding of Louisville, Ky. His 764 in the singles was the third highest set in that category. He leads both divisions.

The Pfeiffers' 3243 series in the open team division, including Ed's 700 contribution, is a record and the team's 1176 finale was the third highest single game in the team division.

And the Pfeiffers' 9561 team all-events total is the second highest in the 56-year history of the tournament.

The Pfeiffer barrage was more than enough to stop the St. Louis Falstaffs, defending ABC team champions. The team shot a 3010 series to move into fourth place.

Italian Boxer, Armstrong To Clash Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Business is picking up for Gene (Ace) Armstrong, the undefeated middleweight.

The 27-year-old contender from Elizabeth, N.J., takes on Italo Scorticini, the Italian middleweight king, in a television 10-rounder (NBC 10 p.m. EST) at Madison Square Garden tonight. Armstrong is the 2-1 favorite.

This marks Armstrong's second fight of the year. That matches his activity for all of 1958. Some times it doesn't pay to be too good. The Ace, who has a 16-0 record for 3½ years of pro fighting, has been finding it difficult to get the other members of the top 10 elite to mingle with him. Armstrong is ranked fifth by the NBA and 10th by Ring.

Scorticini, unranked, is willing to fight anyone. On his two previous invasions of the United States and through 1953-1956, he fought 22 times with so-so results in the ring. Financially, the curly-haired Italian did far better.

Fighting against the top welters and middleweights, Scorty just managed a 9-11-2 record. But he made enough dough to buy up several houses and land in Italy and has a good bank account to go with it. He thinks he'll do better both in the ring and in the finance department this time

Bearcats Run Win Streak To 14 Over Dukers

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Cincinnati and West Virginia, two basketball powers with a bone to pick, are hitting high stride at the right time in their drive toward conference titles and the NCAA Tournament.

The Bearcats, bidding for an other Missouri Valley championship behind the great Oscar Robertson, ran their winning streak to 14 Thursday night with an 88-69 pasting of a Duquesne team that had seven victories in its last nine games. Robertson fired in 36 points, upping his average to 33.4.

West Virginia, going after its fifth straight Southern Conference championship, battered Davidson 100-63 in the first round of the conference tournament at Richmond. The Mountaineers play their semifinal tonight against William & Mary, an 87-69 winner over host Richmond.

It was West Virginia's 16th triumph in its last 17 games and, coupled with Cincy's 14-game win streak, puts the pair at the peak they reached in the stretch last year only to fail in the national tournament.

George Washington, holding high-scoring Bobby Ayersman to a mere five points, upset second-seeded Virginia Tech 85-67 and Art Musselman's 36 points led The Citadel to a 93-88 victory over Furman in the other tournament games at Richmond. The latter pair play tonight, with the winner facing the West Virginia-William & Mary victor in the Saturday night final.

Utah fattened its Skyline Conference lead to a full game, beating Brigham Young 76-74 in overtime as 6-8, 240-pound Pearl Polard scored on a tip-in as the buzzer sounded. The Utes, trailing most of the way, set up the overtime on Rich Ruffell's fielder with five seconds left in regulation time that tied it at 70-70.

Campy, Heartsick Over Son, To Join Dodgers In South

NEW YORK (AP) — Crippled Roy Campanella, who says he is heartsick over his 15-year-old son's juvenile delinquency, has decided nevertheless to keep his promise and go to Vero Beach, Fla., to work as a special coach with the Los Angeles Dodgers baseball team.

The Negro ex-star catcher, confined to a wheelchair by injuries suffered in an auto accident more than a year ago, said Thursday he has abandoned plans to take his family with him.

Campanella will coach young pitchers.

After the arrest of his son David last Tuesday, Campanella had said he didn't know if he would go to Vero Beach.

His wife, Ruthe, said he is still deeply upset over David's conviction Tuesday on a juvenile delinquency charge for street fighting and his arrest the next day as an alleged drugstore burglar. Because the boy is under 16, that charge also is only juvenile delinquency. A court hearing has been set for March 11. The boy is free in $3,500 bail.

The race mare Carlinga, an import from Argentina, cost American sportsman W. Arnold Hanger about $42,000.

Cub Manager Sees Redlegs As Improved

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bob Scheffing, Chicago Cubs manager, looked over the National League today and called the Cincinnati Reds the most improved team in the senior circuit.

"Mind you, I'm not saying which team's going to finish where, but the way I see it, Cincinnati improved the most over the winter," Scheffing said. "Getting Frank Thomas from the Pirates was a big move for the Reds."

"Then, they'll have that kid outfielder Vada Pinson back and he's impressed me every time I saw him play."

Scheffing wasn't particularly optimistic about his own team.

"We improved last year because Ernie Banks had a tremendous season. So did Bobby Thomson, Alvin Dark and Lee Walls. Will they do as well this time? I really don't know."

Banks, the league's most valuable player, took batting practice for the first time Thursday and knocked the ball 25 feet over the fence on his third swing.

Thomas also got in some good licks at Cincinnati's camp in Tampa, Fla. The slugger hit several of Don Newcombe's pitches out of the park and later predicted he would hit between 30 and 35 homers for his new club.

Larry Doby's switch from the outfield to first base, it turns out, is the key to the season's starting lineup for the Cleveland Indians.

"If Doby is all right physically, he's got to play. We need his bat," said Manager Joe Gordon.

The big league teams continued to haul in signed contracts. Philadelphia grabbed a big one when Richie Ashburn, the NL's batting champion, came to terms for an estimated $38,000. Other signees included Andy Carey and John Jaciuk of the New York Yankees, Gene Woodling of Baltimore, Charley Maxwell of Detroit, Felix Mantilla of Milwaukee and Bob Malkmus of Washington.

West Virginia will play in two mid-season basketball tournaments next season — the Kentucky Invitational at Lexington, and the Christmas Invitational in Los Angeles.

Golf In 1958 Was Noted For First Time Winners

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The 1958 professional golf season was notably for the number of first-time winners on the circuit.

Most of them were relatively unknown to the fans, who only a few years ago automatically listed Ben Hogan and Sam Snead as the favorites in nearly every tournament. But they're all golfers who can be expected to continue win-

Among them were Wesley Ellis, Jim Ferree, Bob Goalby, Howie Johnson, Bill Johnston, John McMullen, Doug Sanders and Ernie Vossler. Jacobs, just 24, and McMullen, 23, are the youngest of the group. Jacobs is the only one who didn't go to college. Bill Johnston, at 34, is the oldest.

So far this year Vossler and Ellis are the only tournament winners among them. Ellis, who gained his first victory in last year's Canadian Open, came through with his second in the Texas Open last Sunday. Vossler's No. 2 was at Tia Juana six weeks earlier. But they all have been getting in the money with gratifying regularity. McMullen and Sanders have been among the first 10 three times in seven tournaments.

Jacobs won the U.S.G.A. junior championship and reached the semifinals of the national amateur in 1951 at the age of 16. He turned pro in 1956 and tied for third in the 1957 Los Angeles Open before he was eligible to receive prize money.

Tommy's first win was at Denver, where he shot a dazzling 266 for 72 holes. He had 32 rounds in the 1957 Los Angeles Open before he was eligible to receive prize money.

Golf In 1958 Was Noted For First Time Winners

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The 1958 professional golf season was notably for the number of first-time winners on the circuit.

Most of them were relatively unknown to the fans, who only a few years ago automatically listed Ben Hogan and Sam Snead as the favorites in nearly every tournament. But they're all golfers who can be expected to continue win-

Among them were Wesley Ellis, Jim Ferree, Bob Goalby, Howie Johnson, Bill Johnston, John McMullen, Doug Sanders and Ernie Vossler. Jacobs, just 24, and McMullen, 23

Pay TV Seen Answer To Rising Costs

Costs are becoming an awful problem on television. Gads, I remember way back when the Milton Berle Show — the whole hour, including musicians, writers, chorus girls, guest stars and Berle — came to $17,000.

Today you hardly can get the dog act for that. Today you hardly can get anything for $17,000 except prolonged commercials on day-time television.

Sure, television is graced by an occasional "Hamlet" or "For Whom the Bell Tolls." But increasingly, the specials and even the regulars like "Playhouse 90" are falling behind their budgets.

Television more and more is in an era of deficit financing like government. Sometimes the deficits are fairly formidable, too. Eventually they will be downright frightening.

ALREADY "See It Now" has vanished, mostly though not solely because it was too expensive. The other serious operations on television — most of them, anyway — are sustained by deficit financing that cannot go on forever.

However, even apart from the shows that have disappeared altogether, like "See It Now," the rising problem of cost has cut the quality of television in less spectacular ways.

Already a good many writers, including several who started in television, said they won't write for TV because TV can't afford them. That applies also to actors. To get a cast like that in "For Whom the Bell Tolls" you have to go way over your budget. If the best writers are unobtainable you must take lesser writers and get a lesser script.

ALL OF WHICH leads me to ask the question about that I have been asking myself for a long time: Can the advertisers afford television much longer? Or, to put it another way, can they afford good television, which is what we are primarily concerned with here?

Sure, the advertiser can afford to turn on the network and fill it almost uninterruptedly with commercials, as is being done now on daytime television. Or, he could fill the night-time air with garbage — Westerns and parlor games.

But is this enough? It's not enough for me. I am increasingly in favor of pay television, because I think it is the only solution to the interesting problems.

I never have been naive enough to suppose that pay TV automatically would open the flood gates to operas, symphonies and really worthwhile things. Let's not delude ourselves with great expectations. There will be plenty of junk on pay TV, too.

But at least there will be plenty of money to put on decent dramas. Actors we've got; writers we've got; directors we've got; and the creative energy of this country is at white heat. All we haven't got is money — at least on television we haven't.

I WOULD dearly love to see a top producer like Fred Coe given enough money to pull together all the elements he needs in writing and acting and then thrown into competition with the junk merchants at the box office.

If it were a question of paying a quarter to see a "Playhouse 90" (or a top drawer two-hour live drama), as against paying a quarter to see "I've Got a Secret," who do you suppose would win? And you can't argue with the cash register.

Ratings, I'm convinced, are hogwash, but you can't dismiss the cash register that lightly.

Television should be restored to the hands of the showmen instead of the advertisers. Again, this is not necessarily Nirvana. There have been some awfully shoddy, sensational, cheapjack showmen. But at least the aim of any showman is to entertain, not simply to sell goods.

Just the absence of commercials would add so much to some shows. Already good directors are driven out of their wits by inserting advertisements in the middle of tender, dramatic scenes. When the commercials become the price of survival, then your serious writer and director leaves the medium altogether.

I DON'T THINK sponsored television will disappear altogether. If you wanted to play "Concentration" or to watch Dick Clark's teenagers dancing to rock'n'roll music, or to see "Secret Storm," it would have to be on free television because no one in his right mind would pay to see those things.

I'm convinced that even quite popular shows on free TV never would make the switch to pay TV because people have a different set of values when they pay to see something.

A concert by the Philharmonic would not attract an audience big enough to interest Procter & Gamble, but it sure would attract a big enough one to interest Sol Hurok, whereas no one would pay 10 cents to see "Name That Tune" — the rating notwithstanding.

Besides, all the arguments are going to pale eventually before the single overriding argument of economics. If costs continue to mount, the advertisers won't be able to pay the bills and it will have to be pay TV.

Site For 1960 Meeting Eyed By Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee gathered today to make a final choice for the party's 1960 national convention city.

Los Angeles, recommended by a site committee, was favored to win over 11th hour challenges from Philadelphia and Chicago.

Six cities were in the original competition. On Jan. 18, an eight-member committee headed by Camille F. Gravel Jr. of Louisiana agreed on Los Angeles, whose bid included $350,000 cash plus use of a new 17,000-seat sports arena.

Other matters likely to come before the committee include plans for a fund-raising series of dinners May 8 in honor of former President Harry S. Truman's 75th birthday; a proposal to make national committee members automatic members of their state delegations; and a resolution authorizing a convention arrangements committee.

Saturday night the committee stages its $100-a-plate national victory dinner at which it expects about 2,000 guests. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn, both Texans, head a list of 14 speakers.

Mayor Issues Proclamation

Telephone Pioneers Week Slated

The week from Tuesday to March 9 has been designated by Mayor Fred P. Lawrence as "Telephone Pioneers of America Week," honoring those who have been active in the telephone industry 21 years or longer.

Mayor Lawrence is shown presenting the proclamation to Charles J. Herman, president of the Steubenville Council, with which the East Liverpool club is affiliated, as Mrs. John Davis, president of the life member club, and George Marshall, chairman of activities, look on. In his proclamation, the mayor urged residents to show appreciation "for the efforts of these folks who have pioneered the telephone from infancy to the vast and remarkable communication system of today."

The period was selected because March is a significant month in telephone history. On March 3, 1876, the 29th birthday anniversary of Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor was informed that a patent would be granted for his work on electrical transmission of speech. The patent was granted on March 7 and on March 10 Bell spoke his now famous sentence, "Mr. Watson, come here, I want you."

The Telephone Pioneers was formed in 1911 and now has more than 185,000 members in the 49 states and Canada.

Reminder Issued On Personal Tax Filing In County

A reminder has been issued to individuals, partnerships, associations and corporations engaged in business on the requirement for filing of personal property tax returns with the county auditor on or before April 30.

The state Department of Taxation announced the returns are required of such persons as manufacturers, merchants, farmers, lawyers, doctors, dentists, accountants and others.

All residents owning intangible property, such as stocks, bonds, notes, debentures, credit balances with brokers and other intangible properties, are also required to file returns.

Personal property returns are filed in the county where the taxable property is owned.

Productive investments in intangible property are taxed at 5 per cent of the income yield, and unproductive investments are taxed at 2 mills on each dollar of valuation, and deposits 2 mills on the dollar. Moneys, credits and other taxable intangibles are taxed at 3 mills on each dollar valuation.

Taxes are paid to the county treasurer, and are used for local schools, libraries, health, police and fire services. Last year the taxes paid on personal property in the state was $155 million and on intangible property $31 million.

Personal property tax forms may be obtained at the office of the county auditor at the Courthouse at Lisbon.

Striking Mexican Rail Workers Get Hike, Due On Job

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Some 60,000 striking Mexican railroad workers were ordered back to the job today after an agreement giving them an average 4 per cent raise and medical and housing benefits.

Union head Demetrio Vallejo said all men would be back on the job by 9:30 a. m. to resume full operations. Some workers returned Thursday night to put the yards in order.

It was a quick end to the first serious threat to President Adolfo Lopez Mateos' three-month-old government. A prolonged strike undoubtedly would have spawned widespread labor trouble.

The strike had stopped operations on two-thirds of the 14,000 miles of government-owned rail lines since noon Wednesday. Most of the major routes were affected.

The government said the union accepted the same proposal it had rejected shortly before the strike began, providing $2,640,000 annually for pay increases and 5 million dollars for medical care for workers and their families. The monthly pay raise averages $2.50 per worker, the average wage having been $60 a month.

"The finest sermon ever delivered, and the hardest to put into effect" is the label often affixed to Jesus' Sermon on the Mount.

Council Holds Budget Parley

Authority Reports At Session In Midland

Midland Council held a brief meeting Wednesday evening and then conducted a closed session to discuss the borough budget for 1959-60.

The budget discussion will be continued at the next meeting March 11.

The Municipal Authority in a year-end report, said it had a balance of $750,913.46 as of Dec. 31.

Robert Masters, authority secretary, urged Council to investigate the possibility of obtaining lower fire insurance rates due to new water improvements.

Councilman Harvey Spencer replied, however, that the borough must have a paid full-time, fire department to get cheaper insurance. It now has a volunteer department.

Council voted to pay a $75 bill for Rudolph Presutti, tax collector, for letterheads and stamps, and to pay Leslie B. Roach, former tax collector, $42.23 as his commission on tax liens of 1951-54 to the Beaver County commissioners.

A letter was received from Ernest Trimble of Pittsburgh, retiring district engineer with the State Highway Department, thanking the borough for its co-operation the last 25 years.

Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, secretary, was instructed to send a get-well card to Police Chief Ed J. Steff, who is in the Cleveland Clinic for an operation.

356 In Hancock To Join In 4-H Club Observance

Approximately 356 young people in 19 clubs in Hancock County plan to observe National 4-H Week, Saturday through March 7, according to Miss Helen Petrakis, county agent.

The 1959 theme is "Improving Family and Community Living, with a '4-H Salute to Alumni.'"

In pointing out how 4-H members "learn by doing," Miss Petrakis said "It is a requirement of 4-H club work that each member take at least one project. However, 4-H'ers may choose from a wide variety of farm and home projects the one they will enjoy."

She added that "in each project, they learn by doing skills which they can put to use immediately, as well as in later life."

"Activities such as holding of fairs, serving as junior leaders and helping younger boys and girls with project work give the 4-H'ers a greater sense of responsibility and develop poise and self-confidence," Miss Petrakis continued.

The 4-H program is a part of the national educational system of co-operative extension work, which the Department of Agriculture, the state land grant colleges and the counties share.

Any boy or girl between 10 and 21 may join by agreeing to follow 4-H ideas and standards, Miss Petrakis said. Youths who wish to join one of Hancock's clubs may contact Miss Petrakis at the Agricultural Building in New Cumberland.

6 Will Judge Science Fair

Westgate Exhibits Set For March 12

Six judges for the Tri-State Science Fair March 12-14 at Westgate School have been selected, W. A. Black, chairman of the fair, announced today.

Judges for the junior high school exhibits will be George Ryckman of St. Clair Ave. Ext., consulting engineer; William McConnell of Toronto, science teacher, and the Rev. Robert Henthorn of Mingo Junction.

Judges for the biology, physics, chemistry and mathematics exhibits will be William Watt of Hookstown, South Side High School teacher; Prof. John Emmert of Steubenville College and the Rev. M. Rudolph Miller of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

Black said the judges include laymen, teachers and experts. The laymen will determine if the students have learned anything from the projects, the teachers will decide if the project represents the grade level, and the technical experts will attest to the scientific accuracy of the student and his knowledge of the subject.

Judging will be held March 12, before the fair is open to the public. A point score system will be based on 1 — creative ability; 2 — scientific thought and knowledge; 3 — thoroughness; 4 — skill; 5 — clarity, and 6 — attractiveness.

Rev. Henthorn formerly served at the Wellsville First Methodist Church.

Dairy Boycott In Mansfield Perils Toledo

CLEVELAND (AP) — The boycott of a Mansfield dairy that refused to agree to a February price pattern for milk threatened Thursday to spread to Toledo in protest of shipment of Toledo milk to the beleaguered dairy.

For the last eight days, Mansfield area farmers have been diverting milk from the Page Dairy Co. there. The dairy was the only holdout against a price premium set in the Cleveland market when dairies agreed to ignore a 45-cent drop in the fluid milk price for February and March.

First break in the Mansfield deadlock was announced Thursday night by Glen Wagner, counsel for the producers and manager of the Northwest Co-operative Dairy Sales Assn. of Toledo. He said a meeting with Page has been set up for Saturday.

Wagner is appearing as counsel for the Cleveland and Stark County Co-ops at the Federal milk marketing order hearing here.

Roy Benson, Wagner's assistant, said some producers shipping to Page plants in Toledo had arranged a meeting to consider cutting off milk supplies. He said the farmers were angered by the diversion of Toledo milk to the Mansfield Plant.

Eight per cent of Page's milk supply at Mansfield is being diverted by about 165 organized producers and some independents, according to Dale M. Dohner, manager of the North Central Ohio Co-operative Dairy Sales Assn. in Mansfield.

Fires Damage Home, Mine

Salineville Scene Of Series Of 2 Blazes

SALINEVILLE — The interior of a home near E. Main St. was burned out in a blaze this morning about 9, and the scale house at the J. W. Moore Co. strip mine in the West End was leveled in a fire Thursday night around 7:30.

Flames were discovered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Mitcheon of near E. Main St. this morning while he was at work at a Wellsville pottery and she was caring for an elderly woman elsewhere.

Fire Chief Tony Brandonisio said the fire began in a back bedroom, and he has not yet determined the cause. Heavy smoke and water also caused damage in the frame bungalow.

Twelve men and two pumps and a tanker truck were used in battling the blaze for over an hour.

The frame scale house was destroyed and the truck scales at the coal strip mine were damaged in the fire which spread from an overheated coal heating stove last night.

Workers formed a bucket brigade to save a nearby tool shed. Some daily records were saved from the scale house, and an adding machine had been removed. Other records and machines are in another office structure.

Nine men fought the blaze for an hour and a half.

Questioning Old Ways Seen Step To Improvement

The willingness to take a new look at traditional ways of doing things is a key to improved methods and products, James L. Searson of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. told the Kiwanis Club at a meeting Thursday.

Searson, general foreman of a conditioning mill, said the questioning of accepted and traditional methods generally leads to betterment and efficiency.

He said one system of his firm is a five-step plan: selection of the problem to be studied, breaking down the steps in the problem, questioning of the merit of the present method, development of a better method, and installation of the new plan.

"Anything that is manmade can be improved," Searson said. He cited an example of the manufacturers of hula hoops, who took an old idea for new application and made a tremendous profit.

"A motto of our company is 'There Is a Better Way—Search For It,'" Searson concluded. Ralph Betts was program chairman.

5 Pughtown Cubs Given Bobcat Pins At Dinner

Five members of Cub Pack 137 of Pughtown were awarded bobcat pins following a supper Thursday night at the Fairview Grange Hall.

They were Craig Crow, John White, Dave Holbrook, Dean Westfall and Dave Stouffer.

Harry Smith, cubmaster, was in charge of the program.

Richard Yurko of Weirton, a scout representative, and his wife were guests. Yurko presented the cub charter to Smith and pins and cards to Napoleon Holbrook, institutional representative; Wayne Stouffer, committeeman, and Lorain White, pack chairman.

The supper was prepared by the den mothers.

Injured Couple 'Fair' After Virginia Mishap

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Maxwell of St. Clair Ave., who were injured in an auto mishap near Roanoke, Va., Monday afternoon while en route to Florida for a vacation, are in "fair" condition at the Lewigale Hospital in Roanoke, according to word received by local relatives.

The couple expects to be hospitalized about two weeks. Their son, Jack Maxwell of St. Clair Ave., flew to Roanoke Tuesday after receiving word of the crash. The car hit a tree when Maxwell fainted. He was thrown against the steering wheel and his wife was hurled against the windshield.

Maxwell suffered a punctured lung and a fractured rib. His wife suffered fractures of two ribs and severe facial lacerations. Mrs. Maxwell is a sister of Raymond G. Berger of W. 4th St.

Politicians In Confinement

Roundup Of Rhodesia's Nationalists Being Pushed

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—A steady stream of native politicians was rushed into confinement behind barbed wire today as the British rulers of Southern Rhodesia pushed a roundup of African nationalist leaders.

Despite the proclamation of a state of emergency in Southern Rhodesia and the banning of the African National party, both that territory and neighboring Nyasaland and Northern Rhodesia were reported quiet.

The detention camp hurriedly set up at Bulawayo, 230 miles southwest of Salisbury, was rapidly filling. The government pressed a hunt for other leaders of Rhodesia's leading African nationalist organization, blamed for riots last week in Nyasaland.

Pamphlets in local dialects were being distributed, telling Africans the meaning of the state of emergency.

At the big Kariba hydroelectric project, where 6,000 African workers went on strike for higher pay Wednesday, 4,500 were reported back at work. The company raised the pay.

Reports that African nationalists continued to control some outlying airstrips in Nyasaland brought a request for a group of paratroop veterans to recapture the strips. The Africans had blocked the strips.

The previous disturbances and the threat of more trouble brought a 12-fold increase in riot insurance on homes in Nyasaland.

In Salisbury, life went on much as usual. No troops were seen in the streets—and not even many policemen.

But some Africans warned that the arrests of between 250 and 500 African National party leaders in Southern Rhodesia were bound to have a bad effect on the two million blacks in this territory dominated by 176,000 whites.

One of those seized was Daniel Mazimabuto, a coproducer of the film "African Drum Rolls" which drew its usual packed audience here Thursday night. He is director of the African Cultural Syndicate and a nationalist leader.

Salisbury is the capital of both this self-governing territory and the Central African Federation, which also includes the British protectorates of Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

Southern Rhodesia Prime Minister Sir Edgar Whitehead said he proclaimed the emergency to save the federation—a member of the British Commonwealth — from

Sen. Young Says Ike Ill-Advised On Channel Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Stephen Young (D-Ohio) says President Eisenhower was ill-advised in failing to recommend appropriations for Great Lakes channel deepening projects.

Young plans to work actively for such appropriations for his own and other Great Lakes states to accommodate 27-foot draft vessels which will use the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The Ohio Senator noted the Army Engineers recommended channel deepening projects for the Ashtabula, Cleveland and Lorain, Ohio, harbors; the Marquette and Presque Isle, Mich., harbors, and the Buffalo, N. Y., harbor, at a total cost of 27 million dollars.

He said army engineers also have approved channel deepening projects for the Sandusky and Toledo, Ohio, harbors, and "I actively support both."

"In the end," Young said, "our taxpayers will be amply reimbursed for these additional expenditures through increased revenue and related economic betterment."

Young said the ports now can accommodate only 14-foot draft vessels which reach them through the Welland Canal.

Forming Of Historical Group To Be Discussed

Several Columbiana County officials will discuss a proposal to organize a county historical society at a public meeting of the Wellsville Historical Society tonight in the conference room of the Carnegie Library.

The open meeting will follow a business session at 7:30. Speakers will include Mrs. Frances Whitacre Morton, recorder, R. Max Gard and Frank Wilson, commissioners; Vincent Judge, treasurer, and Kenneth Bell, auditor-elect. Historical pictures taken by the late John Caldwell of Wellsville will be shown. Officers will be elected.
